Lake Erie Boat Explodes; 3 Die, 3 Others Saved

PORT ROWAN, Ont. (CP) —Three persons were drowned a mile off shore from this Lake Erie summer resort early today and three others were rescued when a fishing boat belonging to Charles Cruikshank, 29, of Turkey Point, exploded and sank.

The victims were: Cruikshank, fishing guide; Gordon Swart, 40, Simcoe, manager of the Simcoe Dairy, and Evelyn McLeod, 37, of Turkey Point and formerly of Winnipeg, a waitress in the Turkey Point Hotel.

Rescued were Howard Ferris, 28, of Turkey Point; Jean Sturgeon, and June Strome, of Toronto, both waitresses at the Turkey Point Hotel. Turkey Point is a Lake Erie village about 10 miles from Simcoe.

NEEDED LICENSE

The party left Turkey Point Friday evening to voyage to Port Rowan, where Cruikshank was to procure a fishing license. Shortly after midnight the party boarded the 28-foot cabin motor launch to return to Turkey Point.

About a mile from the dock here there was an explosion and the boat burst into flames.

The three who escaped were sitting at the stern of the craft and were thrown into the water. Cruikshank, Swart and Miss McLeod were in the cabin, Cruikshank steering the craft, and it is believed they were killed by the blast.

Miss Sturgeon, who was unable to swim, was assisted by Ferris, who told the girl to remove her clothing. He also told Miss Strome to strip and to attempt to float as he assisted the Sturgeon girl. All three shouted for help.

HURRIED TO RESCUE

Their cries were heard by John Krestal, owner of the Bayciff Hotel here, who called police and Dr. D. A. Archibald. The three, in Dr. Archibald's boat, went to the rescue. They could find no trace of the ill-fated launch and after a search of the area took the three to the hospital here. All suffered from shocks and burns on their legs and arms.

At dawn this morning a fleet of boats scouted the area and the wreckage of the cruiser was found in eight feet of water. Police dived in to investigate the hulk, but could find no trace of the bodies. Dragging operations continued, but none of the bodies had been recovered by noon.

Visiting Private Planes Hampered By Bad Weather

First arrivals in the second international flight of the Aircraft Owners' and Pilots' Association, these four planes lined up this morning beside the runway at Patricia Bay to await the arrival of other aircraft held up by bad weather on the mainland. By noon only 69 of the 350 planes expected had arrived.

Among the first American visitors arriving with the air armada were, left to right: Mr. and Mrs. John Russell and Mr. and Mrs. Palmer Dunlap. Mr. Dunlap, an electrical contractor, was the pilot. He uses his plane for business flights as well as pleasure.

Wives, Sweethearts, Babies Accompany Pilots On Visit Of Air Armada Today

Poor flying weather today, particularly in neighboring U.S. area cut down the number of planes arriving at Patricia Bay airport for the second annual international flight of the Aircraft Owners' and Pilots' Association.

However, there were many fliers who made their way up for the one-day visit, and by 10.30 this morning the skies were humming with private aircraft which swarmed down out of the air to land at the R.C.A.F. base.

First planes in were Canadian-owned. Fifteen of them arrived last night and early this morning from Vancouver, Chilliwack and other mainland points, while more Canadian planes came in between the flights of U.S. planes which first began to land on the tarmac in numbers halfway through the morning.

Planes carried husbands and wives, young pilots and their sweethearts, and friends.

There was even a baby included in the air armada . . . 14-month-old Christopher Byrd, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Byrd of Mercer Island, near Seattle. Young Christopher always accompanies his parents on their flights.

First Americans to arrive this morning were Mr. and Mrs. Lucian Hamilton of Chehalis, Wash. Mr. Hamilton, a turkey breeder, has been flying two years. On their Cornell plane they carry an insignia depicting a turkey.

BUSINESS MAN FLIER

The second U.S. plane brought four persons . . . Mr. and Mrs. Palmer Dunlap, also of Chehalis, who picked up their friends, Mr. and Mrs. John Russell, in Tacoma this morning for the flight over here. Mr. Dunlap, who is an electrical contractor, uses his plane a good deal for his work which extends over three Pacific northwest states.

The third plane, also from Chehalis, brought Mr. and Mrs. V. A. Rambo. Mr. Rambo, a rancher, uses his plane sometimes for his work and has been flying one year. His wife has not yet developed her husband's enthusiasm for flying although she did enjoy the trip over this morning.

The first U.S. planes to arrive in said the ceiling was low down in their home states and they had to fly low on their journey up. Some were only 400 feet above sea level during the trip.

Under the arrangements made for the visit, there was a flight commander with each flight. As far as possible arrangements were made to have at least one radio-equipped plane with each of these flights, although personnel in the R.C.A.F. flight control tower at Patricia Bay were busy most of the time using signal lights.

It was a complicated business for the control tower, as T.C.A. planes arrived in and took off, and an occasional R.C.A.F. plane went out on duty.

Generally speaking the visitors came in and made good landings, although there was a time or two when spectators watched with particular attention as a plane side-slipped generously on the approach.

SPECTATORS CREATE HAZARD

Up in the control tower, the senior flight control officer, FO. J. P. H. Evans said it was little different bringing the civilian planes in than warplanes, although the lack of radio equipment aboard the planes made use of lights essential. The main trouble, he said, was people walking around on the runways.

RADAR IN OPERATION

Also in operation for the day was the R.C.A.F.'s radar. The equipment was kept going through the day in case any planes needed assistance owing to bad weather conditions.

In fact preparations had been made for all eventualities. There were eight St. John's Ambulance men standing by at the tower, an R.C.A.F. nurse and an R.C.A.F. ambulance.

Further down from the tower was ranged a row of tables where the Canadian customs waited to check in all U.S. fliers.

Each person arriving was given an identification card by members of the A.O.P.A. and a program for the days activities, which were sponsored by the tourist trade group of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce.

After landing the air visitors were brought to Victoria where they had luncheon at 12.45 in Bay Street Armories.

Arrangements were also made for the visitors to see Butchart's Gardens while here.

Russia, Western Powers Headed For Showdown In U.N. On Balkans

LAKE SUCCESS, N.Y. (AP)—Russia and western powers in the United Nations' Security Council headed today for a showdown on the touchy problem of the Balkans.

The question uppermost in the minds of most delegates was whether the Soviet Union would back up its satellites—Yugoslavia, Bulgaria and Albania—when the time came to vote on committee findings that those three countries were responsible in some degree for the bloody guerrilla warfare in Greece.

The crisis was expected to be reached when the time came for Russia to vote on a proposal to keep a two-year United Nations' vigil over the Balkans, right in the Soviet backyard.

The tenseness of the situation was emphasized Friday when the United States told the Security Council it would be called upon to use force, if necessary, to stop anti-Greek activities of the three Soviet Balkan satellites.

The chief U.S. delegate, Warren R. Austin, accused Greece's northern neighbors of "using force against the territorial integrity and political independence of Greece."

Austin said if these activities could not be stopped by peaceful means the United Nations had no other course left but to invoke "enforcement action."

Both Bulgaria and Albania denied they were responsible to any degree for the Balkan border disorders. Yugoslavia is expected to be heard by the council next week.

Col. Nesti Kerenxhi, Albanian representative, told the council that "Albania has nothing to do with acts directed against another," and asserted that "Greece is the sole responsible party in the tense relations between our two countries."

Nissin Nevorah, Bulgarian representative, also laid the blame on Greece.

$24,000 Awarded Innocent Man

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Governor Dwight Green has given final authorization to a $24,000 award by the State of Illinois to Joe Majczek, Chicago, who served 13 years in prison for murder before he was formally declared innocent. The governor signed the money bill Friday.

Majczek's mother scrubbed floors in Chicago office buildings to save $5,000 to finance his fight for freedom. Investigations by the Chicago Times led to the pardon for Green.

Greek Guerrillas Plan Big Drive

PARIS (Reuter) — Reports reached diplomatic circles in Paris today that Communist guerrillas in northern Greece, who, the reports said, already control nearly a third of the whole territory of Greece, are preparing to make a serious drive on Salonika next month.

These sources said the drive might be called off if the tripartite talks now proceeding in Paris turn out to Russia's satisfaction.

I.W.A. Locals 'Alerted' For Possible Tie-up

VANCOUVER (CP) —The International Woodworkers of America (C.I.O.) headquarters has "alerted" locals throughout British Columbia for a "possible breakdown" in negotiations for the coastal lumber industry contract, I.W.A. district president Harold Pritchett announced here.

Present negotiations, continuing under the threat of strike action, had been adjourned Friday until Wednesday.

"We are hopeful that next Wednesday's negotiations will produce results necessary to avoid a breakdown and consequent termination of the contract," Mr. Pritchett said, after announcing the text of his telegram to union locals.

Although no mention was made of the possibility of strike action, union locals were told that "should district negotiations fail, present industry contract terminates, making possible 40-hour-week in every operation by membership action." The union's policy committee was "dissatisfied with employers' attitude in stalling and refuting union 1947 demands," said the telegram.

A joint meeting of the union's district council with the district policy committee was announced for July 6, and Mr. Pritchett said he expected to report conclusion of current discussions "one way or another."

U.S. Law Extended To Let Fiancees In

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Truman today signed legislation extending until next Dec. 31 the present law allowing alien fiancees of past or present members of the armed forces to enter the United States for purposes of marriage. The present law would have expired Monday midnight.

Coal Strike Ends

PARIS (Reuter)—The nine-day-old strike of French coal miners which was beginning to paralyze the whole of French industry, was settled tonight, it was officially announced.

Clergyman Jailed

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Dr. John Lewis, 73-year-old minister, today was sentenced to a term of one to five years at hard labor in the state prison as a result of his conviction Friday on a charge of arson. Calvary Presbyterian Church, 77 years old, was destroyed in a $150,000 blaze last Jan. 24.

Nazi Escapes

VIENNA (Reuter) — Anton Burger, former commander of the Resienstadt concentration camp for Jews in Czechoslovakia, has escaped from the United States prison camp at Glasnebach, near Salzburg, it was reported here today.

French Bank Strike May Delay Wages

PARIS (Reuter) — Millions of workers and employees throughout France may find their pay envelopes empty at the end of this month as a result of an intensification of the bank employees' strike decided on Friday.

The national strike committee of bank employees has announced that henceforth all payments of cheques will be stopped, including payment of salary cheques. Hitherto it had been hoped that despite the strige, arrangements could be made to meet the month-end wage cheques.

The coal strike, which now involves practically all the coal fields in France, entered its fourth day today without any immediate prospect of settlement.

Outlawed

MAO TSE-TUNG

NANKING (AP) — A responsible official said today China's Supreme Court had ordered the arrest of Mao Tse-tung, head of the Chinese Communist Party, for "illegal occupation of Chinese territory."

This action would declare the China's top Communist a criminal. The party already has been outlawed. Mao is somewhere in north China with his fighting forces.

50,000 China Reds Killed, Captured, Government Says

MUKDEN, Manchuria (AP)—Government forces drove relentlessly toward flaming Szepingkai today as their leaders claimed 50,000 Communist troops—three-fifths of the entire Red striking force in Manchuria—had been killed or captured in this costliest battle of the last year.

The Communists, at the same time, broadcast reports they had killed or captured 16,000 government soldiers in winning control of most of Szepingkai in a 12-day fight.

(Pending more exhaustive intelligence, however, estimates of losses by both sides should be considered with reserve).

Szepingkai, railway city roughly midway between Changchun (the Manchurian capital) and Mukden, probably will be fully in government hands within 48 hours, Nationalists leaders predicted confidently after the seizure of a key ridge north of the city.

Floods In Mid-U.S. Rolling Toward St. Louis Junction

ST. LOUIS (AP)—New crests of the flooding Missouri and Mississippi rivers rolled toward a junction 20 miles north of here today as U.S. army engineers and thousands of volunteers fought to save crucial levees in this highly industrialized metropolitan area.

Most critical levees, all on the Illinois bank of the Mississippi were those protecting the Missouri Pacifc Railroad yards at Dupo, south of East St. Louis, and bottom lands at Venice and Granite City.

Federal meteorologist Harry F. Wahlgren predicted the Mississippi, swollen by the advance waters of the Missouri, would crest here late tomorrow or early Monday at slightly over 39 feet and "perhaps exceed" the 39.14 high water mark of 1944, second highest in weather bureau records.

The record, 41.3 feet, 11.3 over flood stage, was reached in 1844.

Pick Over Jap Navy

TOKYO (AP)—Four Allied nations today began picking apart the remnants of the Imperial Japanese navy. Representatives of the United States, Britain, China and Russia drew lots for a total of 32 small warcraft—three destroyers and five escort vessels aggregating 10,000 tons to each country.

101 At Brussels

BRUSSELS (Reuter)—A temperature of 101 degrees in the shade, highest ever known in Belgium since official observations were first made in 1933, was recorded here Friday.

Private Talks Hint Success Held In Doubt

PARIS (AP) — A gloomy atmosphere pervaded both British and French quarters today after a private conference between Ernest Bevin and Georges Bidault, prior to their second meeting late today with Soviet Russia's V. M. Molotov.

French sources reported the preliminary meeting of the British and French foreign secretaries, and one informant said: "The success of the conference is in doubt."

There were indications the Russian position at this afternoon's three-power session might be one of a continued request for more information.

A strong indication of the Soviet line was seen in a dispatch by Tass, official Russian news agency, which said the conference's "foremost task" was to "clarify the actual meaning" of the statement by State Secretary Marshall of the United States outlining the plan.

STARTED TALKS FRIDAY

Bevin of Britain, Bidaut of France and Molotov of Russia, began their talks with a four-hour session late Friday in the French Foreign Ministry's ornate Hall of Parrots, followed by an informal champagne party.

French sources said Bidault—welcoming the others—and Bevin presented their government's views at the session.

But after about an hour, and before any statement had been reported from Molotov, Britain and France sent out their press officers and called off scheduled press conferences.

The French informants said these steps were proposed by Bevin, known to favor secrecy in such talks on the ground that ministers can talk more freely if they need not anticipate quotation.

FOLLOWED EARLIER

Bevin's and Bidault's statements to the ministers, as reported by French informants, were similar to British and French views made public last week, when the two ministers met for two days in Paris.

Bidault was said to have advocated planning by technical committees on such problems as transport, food, fuel and steel, representing European nations and the United States.

Bevin was reported to have urged that, in addition to these, a general steering committee be set up.

Greek Steamship Lost Off Dungeness

LONDON (Reuter)—The 1,516-ton Greek steamship Heron sank today after a collision with the 2,242-ton Danish steamship Stal in a thick fog about 14 miles off Dungeness, Kent.

A British coaster reported picking up 23 survivors from the Heron. The chief engineer of the Heron was said to be missing.

Drive On Tokyo's Organized Gangland

TOKYO (AP)—Japanese police today began a serious attempt to break the growing power of Tokyo's populous and well-organized gangland.

Prodded by occupation authorities, government heads summoned police chiefs to an urgent conference to map a country-wide drive against black marketeers, racketeers and thieves, many of whom have been boasting of being "beyond the reach of the law."

Kinosuke Otsu, 51-year-old reputed underworld king, was in jail charged with "intimidation" after refusing to yield space, obtained by squatter's rights, on which he built one of Tokyo's biggest black markets.

Crime has become so widespread that Tokyo residents are terrorized nightly.

C.I.O. To Picket Wedding Of Taft's Son; Defy Threats

ST. JOSEPH, Mich. (AP)—Despite police threats of arrests, a C.I.O. group went ahead with plans to picket the wedding of the son of Senator Robert Taft, Rep., Ohio, later today.

"We are going to picket Senator Taft wherever we find him," said Gordon Colwell, representative of Local 931 of the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers' Union.

Culminating a romance begun at the University of Michigan, Lloyd Bowers Taft will marry Miss Virginia Stone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Stone of St. Joseph, at the First Congregational Church. Stone is an industrialist.

Prosecutor Joseph Killian said pickets would be prosecuted under a state law prohibiting interference with a religious ceremony.

Senator Taft arrived today from Washington. He laughed, but made no comment when informed of the C.I.O. plans.

Will Admit Jews

PARAMARIBO, Surinam (AP) —The legislature of this Dutch colony on the northern coast of South America voted by a 7 to 5 ratio Friday night to admit as immigrants up to 30,000 Jewish displaced persons.

Before Momentous Talks

French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault (left) is shown greeting Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov as latter arrived in Paris by air from Moscow to attend Foreign Ministers' conference in progress today, on plans for U.S.-aided European reconstruction. Awards Made At Closing Exercises At St. Michael's

The annual prize-giving ceremony and term-ending exercises of St. Michael's School was held Friday afternoon in the garden of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Carmichael, 1256 St. Denis Street.

K. C. Symons, headmaster, welcomed the 250 parents and guests and outlined the year's activities of the school. He noted that all boys had maintained a good academic standing and had done well in sports events.

Dean Spencer Elliott addressed the boys briefly. He noted that this was the 37th annual prize-giving ceremony of the school and outlined the history and accomplishments during the many years.

At the conclusion of his remarks the dean was presented with a school crest for the interest and help which he has given to the boys during the year.

Prizes were presented by Dean Elliott as Mr. Symons announced and explained each award.

The Merit Shield and Merit Trophy for the boy showing the best leadership qualities was won by Robin Kinnell. The Good Citizenship award was presented to Barry Roome. The inter-house trophy was awarded to members of the White House.

Other awards were as follows:

Prizes for academic work—all subjects: R. Kinnell, Form 4; J. Johnson, Forms 3A and B; D. Doidge, Form 2A; R. Robinson, Form 2C; J. Rockingham and R. Stone, Form 1.

Mathematics: C. P. Worsley, N. Scott-Moncrieff, R. Nash, B. Ellis, M. Cooper, D. Yates.

French: M. Williams, D. Jones, B. Roome, C. Latham, C. Plant.

Latin: B. Ainsclough, A. Gray, L. Tashdjian, N. Leggatt.

Science: M. Bell, D. Duke, D. Anderson.

Drawing: G. Johnson, N. Barraclough, P. Symons.

A special leadership award was presented to M. Anderson and an improvement award to D. Privett. A special prize was awarded to C. Jones for being a consistent runner-up. A prize was awarded to M. Rippingale for never being late or absent.

Special awards for "doing their best" went to M. Fraser, P. Sharp, R. Jones, E. Kenney, P. Wells and J. Stevenson.

B. Ainscough was presented with the head boy award.

L. Cotton was awarded the Victor Ludrom cup. M. Bell was presented with a cup for intermediate sports honors, M. Rippingale, junior sports, and R. Napier, midget sports.

Drill awards were made to B. Roome, M. Fraser, G. Hayhoe and D. Kelway. The White platoon was awarded the house cup for drill.

The award for the best scout patrol went to the Seagulls and the award for the best cub six went to the Browns.

Cricket prizes went to P. Bousfield, M. Bell and P. Sharp.

Jamaican Stowaways Held Here

Three Jamaican stowaways are being held in the immigration building here after being taken into custody at Nanaimo aboard the British ship Imperial Monarch. Left to right: Roy Sylvester Francisco, Cyril Augustus Johnson and Kenneth Alfonso Nunes. They hid in a deck boat until the ship was too far at sea to put back to Kingston. They are expected to be shipped back to Jamaica.

Start Educational Drive In Saanich On Sewage Disposal

Saanich Council, sitting as a committee-of-the-whole on the sewage question Friday night, gave H. D. Dawson, municipal engineer, the "go-ahead" signal to launch a publicity and educational campaign within the municipality to enlighten residents on every phase of a proposed major sewage disposal scheme. The council authorized $2,000 for this campaign.

Mr. Dawson, formerly of Nelson, at this week's meeting of the council, expressed the opinion that it was highly possible that one of the reasons for failure of by-laws to get public approval at the polls "is lack of publicity to educate the people on the matter."

Reeve E. C. Warren at the Friday night special meeting was of the same opinion, that too many by-laws have been defeated because of the manner in which they were rushed through. "We must endeavor to give the public all the facts so that they can see the benefits of the projects we put before them," he said.

Mr. Dawson is expected to get the scheme under way very soon. He was instructed by the council to employ the aid of a publicity man.

Before the drive is launched, however, the approval of the Provincial Health Department on the scheme must be secured.

Newspaper, radio, posters and many other forms of advertising are planned by the engineer.

Weather

Weather today and Sunday:

With the continued extension on an area of high pressure into the province from the west prospects are growing brighter for a fine week-end over most of the district.

Vancouver and vicinity Strait of Georgia — Overcast clearing about midday. Variable cloudiness overnight and early Sunday. Clear thereafter. Winds light. Little change in temperature.

Lower Fraser Valley—Overcast becoming cloudy this afternoon and tonight. Widely scattered rainshower today. Cloudy Sunday. Winds light. Continued cool.

West Coast Vancouver Island—Overcast becoming cloudy by afternoon. Cloudy tonight and Sunday. Winds light.

Witness Ends Life

GUAM (AP) — Navy Lieut. Shigioshi Nakamura, a prosecution witness in the war crimes trial of 19 Japanese accused of causing the torture deaths of 10 U.S. soldiers on Truk, committed harikiri with a razor late today.

Nakamura slashed his stomach and his throat in the witness section of the marine stockade, to which he had been returned after a harrowing day of cross-examination before the scowling faces of the defendants.

Marriage Without Love Can Be Very Successful

Faith Baldwin, world-famous novelist, has based her story, entitled "Honor Bound," on the lives of a boy and girl who were jilted by their first loves. In sympathy with each other Laurie Alison and Hank Ellis marry. A son is born to them. All goes well until Laurie's old boy friend returns to town.

"Honor Bound" is a light love novel depicting incidents in life that may happen to thousands of married couples.

Faith Baldwin's novel is now available in Dell Books, 25c at your magazine dealers, and is distributed on Vancouver Island by Lovick's News Agency, Victoria, B.C. ***

Wiring Inspector Chosen In Saanich

At the special Saanich Council meeting Friday night, F. T. Copithorne, 735 Lavender Avenue, a former electrical contractor and resident of the district for 10 years, was appointed inspector of electrical wiring for the municipality. There were two other applicants.

At a meeting of the council's transportation and light committee, the action of the municipal clerk in not sending the letter to an electrical wiring contractor, was endorsed. This is the incident over which Councillor W. C. Kersey said he would resign from the committee.

Eros Restored To His Place At Piccadilly Circus

LONDON (CP) — Eros came back today after a war-enforced seven-year absence. He is presiding once more over the swirling traffic of Piccadilly Circus.

A sight Canadian servicemen flocking through the busy intersection during the war years never saw, the small aluminum statue perched atop a pedestal in the centre of the six-artery heart of the west end is being welcomed back with warm recognition by Londoners and particularly by the flower "girls" who nightly sell their violets at the statue's base.

Dean of the aged coterie of vendors is Mrs. Emma Baker, 72, who sold her first violets in Piccadilly Circus when she was 15. Her 52-year-old daughter is another member of the little clique whose pitch is the Circus. Mrs. Baker sold a few bunches of flowers in Piccadilly Circus during the war, but the old cry of "Violets, lovely violets" just wasn't the same without Eros.

VARIED EXPERIENCES

The figure of a winged archer discharging his arrows in the general direction of lower Regent Street has looked down on most of the big celebrations of peace-time London—though protected by boardings for such big affairs as George V's Jubilee and George VI's coronation. It has suffered minor damage on several boat race nights and New Year's Eve through bibulous attentions of celebrants.

Evacuated in a mattress-lined crate to Egham, Surrey, in October, 1939, to dodge German bombs, Eros stayed hidden until recently and despite public protests to the London County Council—which pleaded manpower shortage for the work—was not permitted to see the giant victory celebration of June 8, 1946.

When the Ounce of Prevention Fails

★ Warning against accidents in the home and on the highway is old stuff to most of us. Many industries have made real progress in accident prevention, but our homes continue to produce minor and major injuries on an ever-increasing scale.

In spite of every precaution, accidents will occur. When the "ounce of prevention" fails, it is wise to have "the pound of cure" ready and at hand. See that your medicine cabinet is amply stocked with standard first aid materials. Keep a first aid kit in the pocket of your car. We shall be pleased to help you select the essential items from our complete stock.

Keep Salmon Controls To Insure Supply

OTTAWA (CP) — Fisheries Minister Bridges said Friday the government had hoped to discontinue export permit controls for Pacific salmon in force since 1939, but had found it advisable to continue the controls to ensure an adequate supply in Canada.

The Minister said that as the 1947 salmon producing season in British Columbia approaches "it is increasingly evident that the continuance of export control is desirable.

"Not only is there a prospect that the Canadian market would be deprived of canned salmon, but very probably also fresh and frozen salmon."

He added that permits will continue to be freely issued for the export of red spring salmon in fresh or frozen form.

Social Credit M.P.'s Want To Be Treated With More Respect

OTTAWA (CP) — It's about time, says Anthony Hlynka, Social Credit member of Parliament for Vegreville, in Alberta, for the Commons to treat Social Crediters with the respect other members expect for themselves. Primarily, it's time to cut out the sniping at them as "crackpots and funny men. . ."

J. L. Gibson, Ind, Comox-Alberni, was the butt of that remark after he arose when Mr. Hlynka had finished a speech and said it prompted him to ask if there was "a psychiatrist in the House."

Another Social Credit member, John H. Blackmore of the Lethbridge riding, drew a crack when, during a monetary discourse, he observed that "talk's cheap but you need money for whisky."

From the Progressive-Conservative benches came the wistful remark of Arthur Smith, member for Calgary West: "You said it, brother."

INDIAN AFFAIRS

Candidate for hardest-working committee clerk of this or any other session of Parliament is T. L. McEvoy, secretary, librarian and facts-and-figures man for the joint Senate-Commons committee on Indian affairs.

The committee has held a record 65 meetings this session. Mr. McEvoy had to arrange appointments, transportation and accommodation for more than 100 witnesses who have testified since its creation in May, 1946.

He has also had to look after printing arrangements for the committee's 4,200 pages of evidence—800 of them accumulated last year, 900 on a special subcommittee trip to the Maritimes and 2,500 at the present session.

AMONG THE PIPERS

Hughes Lapointe, parliamentary assistant to Defence Minister Claxton, hired a piper to haunt Thomas Reid, Lib., New Westminster, while he was trying to compose a speech. Reason: Mr. Reid's nightly renditions on the bagpipes are among Parliament's more persistent perplexities.

News Of The Island

Duncan Hospital May Close Top Floor

DUNCAN—Shortage of nurses has threatened a shut-down of the entire top floor of King's Daughters' Hospital here.

The hospital board has made a special appeal to all registered nurses in the district to assist in keeping the hospital operating. There are 10 beds shut down at the present time and closing the top floor would take 25 beds out of service.

Name W. Allester Duncan School Head

DUNCAN—William V. Allester, veteran of the R.C.A.F., of Chemainus, has been named successor to L. A. M. Peake, as principal of Duncan elementary school.

Mr. Allester will take up his duties in September following completion of the degree course for bachelor of arts at the University of B.C. summer school.

Langford School Caretaker Honored

LANGFORD—At the closing ceremony held Friday morning in Langford School auditorium a presentation was made to Mrs. E. C. Matson who has been caretaker for 27 years.

She was presented with a handbag and cheque by Julia Fleetwood from pupils, former pupils and P.-T.A. as a token of their appreciation of her work.

J. W. Willway, principal, gave a short talk to the pupils.

Ray Wilson Heads Langford Tennis Group

LANGFORD—Ray Wilson was elected president of the Langford tennis players at a meeting held in the community hut, Thursday.

Jimmie Massie is vice-president; Judy Wilson, secretary-treasurer and Messrs. E. F. Le Quesne, Jack Le Quesne and Dorothy Jackson, executive committee.

Members plan to have the tennis courts repaired as soon as possible.

75th Anniversary Of Founding Of First Sooke School

SOOKE — This month Sooke community commemorates the 75th anniversary of the Sooke School Board, and the building of the first school.

According to old records, a meeting was called June 11, 1872, by the pioneer Muir family at Sooke, for the purpose of electing the first school board.

Mr. Weir, of Metchosin, was invited to attend. A trustee meeting was held June 25, 1872, and on July 11 they met to choose a site for the first Sooke school.

It was decided to accept an offer of a site at the foot of Spring-side Road, from John Muir, Sr., who was affectionately known as "Tay," that being the Scotch term for grandfather.

Tenders were called to clear the lot and on July 29 tenders were called to build the first Sooke School which was constructed from logs in true pioneer style.

Up to this time the very few children in Sooke were given private tuition. On Saturday, August 31, 1872, the first school teacher, Mrs Miles was employed.

The first school examinations were held December 20, 1872, and conducted by the teacher, assisted by Mr. Meeson. They were attended by all the Sooke folk. Prizes were awarded and tea was served, and the records state that "the children acquitted themselves very creditably."

Sooke has now a four-room elementary school and a high school at Milne's Landing with three teachers on the permanent staff and some tuition from a teacher of French.

Miss E. Erbold New Sooke Nurse

SOOKE—The monthly meeting of the Sooke School District Health Committee took the form of a picnic luncheon at the home of Mrs. J. M. Elliott, president, at Jordan River.

Miss Dorothy Paulin, district nurse, was congratulated on her new appointment as senior nurse of the Saanich and South Vancouver Island Health Unit, and regret was expressed that she will be leaving Sooke district.

Miss E. Erbold, of Langley Prairie, will take over from Miss Paulin at the end of July and in this way the Sooke district will not be without a nurse during the summer months.

The secretary, Mrs. D. J. De Rochie, was instructed to ask the Doctors' Directory for a list of doctors who would be available on call for the areas represented by this committee.

A suggestion will be sent to Sooke, and Luxton, and Happy Valley, that action be taken, as requested by Dr. J. L. Gayton, medical health officer, on community planning, building, and sanitation. Colwood and Langford have already taken action in this regard.

At the conclusion of the meeting the members were escorted through the B.C. Power Plant by J. M. Elliott, the superintendent. Tea was served by Mrs. Elliott, Mrs. George Mitchell and Mrs. H. Rough.

All Sooke Day Proceeds To Help Furnish Hall

SOOKE—Proceeds of the "All Sooke Day" festivities July 30 will be used for furnishing the interior of the community hall, the site for which was purchased with the proceeds of the first All Sooke Day held in June of 1934.

Actual building of the hall started in 1936 with volunteer labor. Some 1,155 people attended the All Sooke Day dance in the new hall in August of 1937.

The present hall is valued at $14,000 and has been an asset to the community of Sooke, with basketball and badminton games played on its large floor and meetings and entertainments of all kinds held.

General improvements will be made to the building with part of the All Sooke Day proceeds this year.

Annual School Picnic

LANGFORD — Annual school picnic was held at Goldstream Park Thursday. Parent-Teacher Association provided ice cream and lemonade.

Sports were run under direction of the teachers and a treasure hunt and baseball game were held during the afternoon.

China's Civil War Product Of Changing Economic World

"The civil war in China is only part of a common economic change which is going on the world over," Dr. G. Y. Wu, secretary-general of the Yuan Legislature, China's highest government body, said in an interview at the Empress Hotel Friday night.

"In a desperate effort to find a way out of her economic trouble, China has resorted to civil war, while in North America you have resorted to labor strikes. The difference is only in form, not in substance," Dr. Wu said.

The civil war, the doctor continued, is actually confined to a few very small areas in the vast country. In most parts of the country, life is going on much as it has for the past 4,000 years.

Dr. Wu said that China's greatest needs were scientific methods of agriculture and modern farm implements.

"We need to increase production, raise our economic level and place our country on a better basis for world trade."

Dr. Wu stated that Communism was the biggest trouble which the government has to contend with. "If we could settle that, our minor problems would settle themselves."

Dr. Wu is in Canada to confer with government officials here on matters pertaining to the welfare of Chinese nationals in Canada and Canadian nationals in China.

2 Ex-G.I.'s Sleep In Palace Grounds

LONDON (AP)—Two grinning Ex-GI's from Oregon, out to see the world before "we have to start playing at being grownup," threw a chill into Scotland Yard and the British War Office by scaling the wall and spending the night in the beautiful but utterly exclusive grounds of Buckingham Palace.

This simply is not done. In fact there is an 8½-foot wall around the palace grounds, with long sharp spikes on top of it and patrolling the wall are the pick of London's bobbies and a smart detail of army guardsmen.

In the words of one embarassed Scotland Yard official, "it never happened before" — until Wallace (Steve) McCall, 22, of Portland, Ore., and John L. Jensen, 24, of North Bend, Ore., good looking six-footers both, found themselves in London Thursday night without a place to sleep.

"Well, there is Buckingham Palace," said Jensen.

It took half an hour, but with the aid of two passing English girls who acted as scouts, they managed it over the wall, barely evading four cops.

They selected a secluded spot, and curled up happily in their Arctic sleeping bags at the edge of the lawn where some of the world's most fashionable tea parties are held.

They awakened when the sun was high and trouble arrived in the form of gardeners, palace employees, uniformed policemen and an apoplectic plainclothesman.

Police officials questioned them closely and examined everything, but politely, and then turned them loose.

"They even escorted us to the bus stop," said McCall, a Yale student.

Presume Death In Airliner Crash

VANCOUVER (CP)—The application of Mrs. Leah Millor to presume the death of her husband, Lance Millor, a passenger on the missing Trans-Canada Air Lines plane, was granted by Mr. Justice J. M. Coady in B.C. Supreme Court here Friday.

Mr. Millor was returning to Vancouver from Calgary April 29, when the airliner disappeared. Fourteen other persons were on the missing plane.

Ontario Wars On 'Whistling Wolves'

EASTVIEW, Ont. (CP) — Wolves in this Ottawa suburb are having a rough time. In magistrate's court Friday, Donald Brown and Woodrow Lusk were fined $10 and costs or three days in jail on charges of whistling at girls. Magistrate Austin O'Connor warned that sentences for this offence would be "much stiffer" in future.

3 Drowned In Lake

PORT ROWAN, Ont. (CP)—Two men and a girl were drowned in Lake Erie off this port early this morning when the cabin cruiser in which they were voyaging exploded and sank. Two other girls in the party were rescued.

CBC Officials Not Taking Sides On Issue Of New Control Body

OTTAWA (CP)—CBC officials completed their testimony before the radio committee of the Commons Friday with the statement that they were not in a position to take sides on the question of whether or not a new body should be established to license and regulate radio in Canada.

A. D. Dunton, chairman of the CBC board of governors, said the board felt it was not its function, as a public body and a creation of Parliament, to present a brief either for or against fundamental changes in legislation which Parliament has enacted and reaffirmed.

He was replying to Douglas Ross, P.C., Toronto-St. Paul's, who asked for comment on recommendations by the Canadian Association of Broadcasters and the Canadian Daily Newspapers Association for establishment of an "independent" body to license and regulate radio in Canada.

Mr. Dunton told Rene Beaudoin, Lib., Vaudreuil-Soulanges, Que., that the CBC could be harsher in its administration of regulations, but that it tried to be fair.

QUESTION OF TELEVISION

Dr. Frigon, general manager of the CBC, said broadcasters in Canada realized it was too early to introduce television here because the development required the backing of large markets such as only were available in the United States and Great Britain.

Mr. Dunton said no private radio station in Canada had yet applied to experiment with television.

The Canadian Association of Broadcasters and the Canadian Daily Newspapers Association had charged the CBC was hampering the development of television in Canada.

Mr. Dunton said some private stations had asked that their applications for television licenses be placed on file for consideration when television is developed in Canada.

CHAIN OF STATIONS

Thomas Reid, Lib., New Westminster, protested that CKNW, New Westminster, had three times been refused permission to increase its power, but at the same time licenses were being granted to the Taylor, Pearson and Carson Company, which operates stations in many parts of Canada.

Mr. Dunton said Taylor, Pearson and Carson and allied interests operated about 12 private stations in Canada under agreement with the station licensees.

The company held shares in six stations and now was seeking permission to obtain minority shares in Calgary and Edmonton stations.

Mr. Reid said it did raise suspicions when such a company could obtain license after license.

Mr. Dunton said the company usually operated the station under an agreement with the licensee, who was still responsible for the station.

Mr. Reid said he could not see why CKNW was refused a power increase which it needed to give proper service to the Fraser River valley.

John Diefenbaker, P.C., Lake Centre, Sask., asked if any licenses for stations in Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba were outstanding.

Mr. Dunton said he understood applications for French-language stations in Edmonton and Prince Albert, Sask., recently had been revived.

Helgoland Again Will Be Bombed

LONDON (Reuter) — Bombs will crash again on the wrecked Island of Helgoland in the early hours of next Tuesday, when about 40 giant R.A.F. Lincoln and Lancaster bombers will stage a massed attack.

Mosquito pathfinders will precede the bombers and mark the target with colored flares. The raid, which is part of a routine exercise, will be controlled by a master bomber. The planes will attack in two waves from 18,000 feet, and each will drop a token load of one 500-pound bomb.

More Aid Promised To B.C. Credit Unions

VANCOUVER (CP)—Increased government aid to British Columbia credit unions was promised Friday night by Attorney-General Gordon Wismer in an address at the annual convention of the B.C. Credit Union League here.

He said more inspectors would be supplied to cover the league's expanding activities.

Dog Acquitted

VANCOUVER (CP) — A dog, recently condemned to die, was acquitted in county court here Friday when prosecution witnesses failed to appear.

The animal, owned by Mary Hutt, received the sentence of death from Magistrate W. W. B. McInnis, May 10, when Samuel Aiello testified he had been bitten by the dog, April 29.

Miss Hutt's appeal was allowed by Judge M. M. Colquhoun when Aiello failed to appear.

Movie Man Dies

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Clarence Bricker, 55, Hollywood motion picture executive, died Friday of a heart attack while filming scenes for a forthcoming picture at a hotel here. Veteran of 30 years in the film industry, Bricker was a production manager for the Roy Del Ruth productions.

Announcement—

THE INTERNATIONAL BROTHERHOOD OF PAPER MAKERS, Local 367, (A.F.L.)
IS PLEASED TO ANNOUNCE THE SIGNING OF A NEW LABOR CONTRACT WITH SIDNEY ROOFING & PAPER COMPANY LIMITED

The functioning of collective bargaining, which can be exercised only under a democracy and the system of free enterprise which we enjoy, was aptly demonstrated at the Sidney Roofing & Paper Company's Victoria plant, when after an amicable and constructive discussion a new labor contract was signed on Saturday, the 14th of June, to be effective during the contract year commencing July 1, 1947.

This is the tenth such contract to be negotiated between this Union and Sidney Roofing & Paper Company Limited.

Under the terms of this agreement, approximately 200 hourly paid employees will be granted an increase of nine cents per hour, which provides a general labor base rate of 86c per hour. Extra pay for second and third shifts was also increased proportionately.

The company agreed to grant two weeks' vacation to all employees at the completion of three years' continuous service, instead of five years as called for by the former contract. All employees having one year's service with the Company regularly receive one week's vacation.

During these negotiations, the Company also announced the inauguration of a mutual contributory pension plan for all employees. The Company's current contributions to this plan will amount to approximately 2 cents for each hour worked by the employee, and will cost the Company a total of approximately $9,000.00 per year for current premium payments. In addition, in recognition of past service, the Company will contribute approximately $70,000.00 to cover past premiums.

The Union expressed its appreciation of the terms of the new contract, which has developed over the years into a vital and mutually profitable working agreement between the company and its employees.

The employees of this Company now enjoy participation in the following welfare schemes, to which the Company contributes well in excess of half the cost:

1. Hospital Insurance: providing free hospitalization over a wide range of needs.
2. Medical Services Insurance: providing free medical services (doctors) as and when required.
3. Pension Plan: as outlined above.
4. Sick Leave pay when employees are absent due to sickness not covered by Workmen's Compensation.
5. Vacations with pay: 1 week for all employees with one year's service, and two weeks for those having completed three years.

The Union is proud of the fact that it has at this plant the highest wage standards in the Asphalt Roofing Industry, where the employees enjoy steady employment, good wages and this complete range of employees' welfare plans.

WHY ROCK THE BOAT?

JUDGED BY THE FACT THAT FOREIGN Minister Molotov arrived in Paris supported by nearly four score of consultants and advisors, it would seem reasonable to suppose that Prime Minister Stalin has instructed him to be realistic in his discussions with Britain's Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin and France's Foreign Minister Georges Bidault on the Marshall Plan for the aid-plus-self-help economic rehabilitation of continental Europe.

It surprised nobody that the regimented journalistic organs of Moscow which exploded editorally, as is their wont, have attacked the method proposed by the United States by which some semblance of economic rehabilitation might be achieved for the continental European nations that are willing to assist themselves. It is unfortunate, however, that as soon as the Kremlin seems to have relented in its belligerent attitude toward the western democratic powers, such official newspapers as Pravda, Izvestia, and those journals dominated by Communistic influence in Eastern Europe should let themselves go editorially in unintelligent and undeserved diatribes against such ameliorative formulae as that which United States Secretary of State General Marshall proclaimed at Harvard on June 5.

Either the Soviet Union means to be co-operative by permitting Mr. Molotov to go to Paris to discuss continental European rehabilitation through the Marshall Plan, because practical development of the American idea is sensible in all its aspects, or the Kremlin intends to present Russian obstinacy as the stumbling block to world peace. This may be an extreme view of the stand taken by the Russian journalistic mouthpieces. But what other interpretation can be put upon fulminations that are not published until they are affirmed by the Politburo in Moscow?

'THE MOVING FINGER . . .'

THE WORLD IS STILL SO FULL OF the tragedy of lives marred by the war that new examples of the cruelty of fate occasioned by global conflict would seem to add little to the sum total of misery and suffering. But there is a particularly pathetic touch in the news item which reports the deaths of two men and seven boys on a beach of the Fiji Islands—killed by the explosion of a bomb believed to bave been jettisoned during the fighting in the southern Pacific.

No clearer example of the senselessness of war's human destruction could be found than this idle killing of innocent island inhabitants. Who can tell the strange twistings of fate, the unknowing, unfeeling tides and currents which brought this wartime instrument of death into the hands of the native boys? Some bomber pilot, perhaps in difficulties, consigned it, as he thought, harmlessly to the deep, only to be cast up, perhaps years later, to cause the deaths of these simple natives. There would be a strange tale of destiny if the sequence of occurences which ended in the tragic slaughter could be traced. But it would be no stranger in this instance than in that of every individual who suffered death or ruin by reason of the war.

There would be the same sense of blind fate of powerlessness to change the ordained chain of events, of helplessness before the sweep of world developments and ignorance of their causes and ultimate effects. It is the story in essence of the little man of all nations in the grip of world forces. Only when he has learned through understanding and concerted action to control those forces will he have removed his "fate" from the sphere of the unknown and placed it within his own power of control.

BUNGLED THE JOB?

A STUDY OF WORLD-POWER developments over the past two years will show that Russia's tactics of obstruction, deviousness in negotiation and aggressiveness in practical manoeuvres have achieved what even a world war could only partially accomplish. Her policies, for example, have caused the complete re-orientation of United States policy from isolationism and pacifism to military preparedness, foreign intervention and a concrete desire to see that the democratic way of life is preserved in every part of the world where American assistance can effect it. Such an eventuality must have been far from the desires of the Kremlin planners as they set out to shape world developments to their own pattern, but they could not avoid the implications of their methods.

Since obstruction, deviousness and aggressiveness are the ready tools of Communism, these were employed, and the fact that they must eventually cause active retaliation by the great western democracy was something which Moscow could only hope to postpone. The Russian leaders guessed wrong—as did the Kaiser and his advisors in 1914 and Hitler and his gang 25 years later. The so-called Truman Doctrine, the current proposals for unified aid to Europe with its intensification of American interest in that continent, the veto of tax cuts in the United States (implying more money for armaments), and similar developments are evidence of this.

The world politics of the Communists have had other effects, which, as defensive reactions to Moscow moves, are not conducive to global peace. The recalcitrance of Russia has made other nations consider mutual defence groupings, for fear of what the inscrutable Russian bear may be planning. Equally unwanted by Russia, but equally a direct result of her threatening appearance has been the centring of attention on possible fifth columns in the democracies, leading in some cases almost to the unpleasant spectacle of "witch hunts." The Russian attitude, again, has emphasized the ideological conflict between Capitalism and Communism.

Finally, in an over-all sense, the Russian performance at the global council tables and in unilateral direct action against individual countries, has put the rest of the world in a state of suspense as a result of vetoes, walkouts and political coups. Everyone wonders "what those Russians will spring next." It would seem that in creating this atmosphere, the Soviets have completely mis-read the western mind, antagonized potential co-operators and forced themselves outside the circle of the "One World" mindedness which the democracies see as the only sure road to peace.

FOR PAST AND FUTURE

CANADIANS IN ALL PARTS OF THE Dominion will approve the action of the Institut Democratique Canadien and the Canadian Unity Alliance in making preparations to erect a statue of Sir Wilfrid Laurier in Montreal. It is fitting—and, indeed, overdue—that the memorial should be established in the Quebec metropolis, for it appears that the famous son of French-speaking Canada who died nearly 30 years ago has never been so commemorated in his native province.

The first French Canadian to head a national party and the first to become Prime Minister, Sir Wilfrid gained for himself a place in this nation's history which has never been challenged. His career as Liberal chieftain drew more than national attention, and on visits to Britain and France he made speeches which were outstanding for their brilliance and perception. Again, during the Boer war, he delivered addresses in Parliament which excited comment throughout the Empire. But at home, he will be remembered for his efforts at unification of the two great races of this country, and his championship of our joint national aspirations.

Quebec today may well honor in bronze or marble the man who did so much for racial and cultural relations. And if this mark of respect should serve also as an active reminder of the ideals for which he strove, it will prove a memorial to the provision of which he would certainly have given his blessing.

AN HONOR AND A DANGER

TO NAME A SHIP AFTER A MAN IN public life is a distinction of which the sponsor may be proud. Undoubtedly British Columbia's Minister of Finance is properly impressed by the honor accorded him by the Kootenay Lake Ferry interests which have christened their new vessel "Anscomb." There are, however, certain drawbacks to the practice—as a former Conservative member in the provincial Legislature, Col. Cy Peck, V.C., noted some years ago. His name, too, was chosen for a ferry plying the Gulf Islands run. But when he found, in his daily paper, that "Cy Peck" was in drydock undergoing extensive repairs, he took occasion to protest the manner in which the news was given to the world. So many things can happen to a ferry. It is to be hoped that the acquisition of the Kootenay service escapes disaster. Use of the name of the Minister of Finance in a nautically-phrased report could lead to embarrassing misconstructions.

TIME OF SEVERANCE

THERE IS A SLIGHT FLAW IN THE ringing shouts of freedom with which young students emerge through school doors to begin the long liberty of summer vacation. It is as if some small crack had developed in the bell that peals their joy. For all the glories of the days to come, they will miss the personality of a teacher who has shown them affection, has helped to mold their young minds, has brought to them the rich enjoyment of story hours and has assisted them to the achievement of their little triumphs.

There is adventure ahead with their fellows. No longer is their life run on the confining schedule of gongs that call them to assembly, that break their play at recess and summon them from the busy enjoyments of the after lunch game. Now they may plan lazily for the events and outings that stretch over days that seem endless. Now they may drowse in the sun, counting cheap the time that slips away. But in their idle hours, they will know a puzzled yearning for the disciplined fellowship of school, the loyalties and the excitements of class.

In this interlude between studies they will find some nostalgic reminder of time that has passed, that cannot be recalled, of experiences that cannot be repeated. And in this new appreciation of values once taken for granted they will find something of the substance that enriches and strengthens the growth of their inner selves.

80 Years Old

Quoted from the Monthly Letter of the Royal Bank of Canada, on the occasion of the forthcoming 80th Anniversary of Confederation, July 1, 1947.

THE PROPER place to start a birthday story is in the past. There is no need, on this occasion, to wrinkle our brows in attempting to disentangle the web of events, because all Canada's history is woven into the fabric of the dress she wears today. The past is not drab. It was exciting in its happening, and diversified enough to suit the most exacting story-teller.

Though Jacques Cartier made his first voyage to Canada in 1534, the event we shall celebrate on July 1 did not take place until 333 years later. Those three centuries were marked by the hardship of pioneering in a country for which life in French and English villages was a poor rehearsal. Besides the difficulties of climate and loneliness there were hostile clans, belligerent neighbors, natural barriers, and the uncertainty of life under rulers who were 3,000 miles away across an ocean traversed slowly by sailing vessel, rulers who knew little about conditions in their colonies.

BY 1867 IT WAS evident to the people who made up the evolving democracies that something more was needed than the independence of their isolated settlements. They thought of confederation as the solution for a great many political and economic difficulties. Chief among the political aims was to establish a new nation to meet the changed conditions of British policy and to unite the scattered provinces against possible aggression from the south; economically it was designed to spread dependence over many industries instead of only a few, and thus lessen exposure to the effects of economic policies pursued by Great Britain and the United States.

IMPOSSIBLE THOUGH it seemed to draw these diverse interests together, events conspired to bring it about. Each of the separate colonies arrived at a crisis in its affairs at the same time, and confederation held out hope of relieving many worries.

The Canada of 1867 would be a strange world to us. It had none of the features we take for granted, such as great factories, large cities, highways, automobiles, airplanes, radios, electricity. There were only a few miles of railway along the St. Lawrence. The people numbered about 3,500,000, 80 per cent of whom lived in the two province of Upper and Lower Canada. Four-fifths of the population was rural.

OF COURSE, enactment of the British North America Act establishing confederation did not of itself assure solution of either political or economic difficulties. It did, however, provide a framework within which we are still working to bring about the balance of loyalties and interests, needs and supplies, which an effective federal system requires.

It would be a mistake to concentrate upon numbers and masses in judging either the growth or progress of a nation. Individuals are important because of their leadership, initiative and inventiveness—features which do not belong to crowds.

INCLUDED IN THE roster of Canadian achievements is the maritime saga of the Royal William which sailed from Pictou on August 18, 1833, and, first of all steamships, crossed the Atlantic. Tom Wilson produced the first electric light in Hamilton, Ontario, and then went on to discover that calcium carbide could be manufactured in an electric furnace, paving the way for wide use of acetylene in industry. Nine years after confederation, Alexander Graham Bell made the world's first long-distance telephone call. In 1882, John Wright of Toronto, visited Thomas Edison and brought away with him a crude electric locomotive. Out of his experiments came the trolley pole, solving a 50-year-old problem and making the electric streetcar practicable. Robert Foulis of Saint John, N.B., invented the steam fog horn; Dr. William Saunders and his son, Dr. Charles Saunders, developed Marquis wheat, opening up a whole new land to wheat growing.

PROFESSOR John Cunningham McLennan devised a method for extracting helium from natural gas at a time when Britain needed it for balloons and blimps. The Red Cross outpost hospitals were planned in answer to the needs of the frontier; insulin was found by Dr. Frederick Banting who started his search in London, Ont., in 1920; silicosis, the "dust disease" which took a heavy toll among miners, was conquered by the Banting Institute in co-operation with the Ontario Mining Association; the electron microscope, which can magnify a human hair to the size of a telegraph pole, was built by three men, Professor Burton, James Hillier and Albert Prebus, after three years of nerve-wracking work. Mounted Police patrol ship Saint Roch, under Sergeant Henry Larsen, sailed the Northwest Passage from west to east in two years starting in June, 1939, the first time in history.

CANADA HAS MADE wonderful progress in her 80 years of federation, and has at least as good prospects of an equal share of advancement in the next 80 years. She has broken through frontiers of geography and climate and philosophy and custom to reach her present position: today she is leading in attempts to breach old-time prejudice and selfishness and insularity so that world economic reconstruction and stability may march side-by-side with peace.

Beyond The Lawn, The Blue Of A Restless Sea

A Strickland Picture of a Familiar Oak Bay Scene

Science And Diplomacy

By JAMES THRASHER From New York

A FEW DAYS AGO Russia's delegate to the U.N Atomic Energy Commission presented a new plan for international control of nuclear power. It represented his government's first step toward compromising the differences between its previous program and the generally accepted American plan.

For that reason Mr. Gromyko's new statement was greeted with what is known as cautious optimism. What tempered the rejoicing was Mr. Gromyko's silence on two subjects. He did not mention international ownership and management of fissionable materials and atomic installations. And he avoided discussing the crucial matter of a big-powers veto over any action against a violator of atomic energy agreements—a right which Russia demands.

TEMPERING FACTOR

For some time, the rejoicing was probably tempered further by the veiled announcement of a new super-weapon which came two days after Mr. Gromyko's statement. This announcement, by a New Zealand scientist, revealed that the new weapon had been developed jointly by the U.S., the United Kingdom, and New Zealand. Beyond that little was said, except that the new development might make the atomic bomb seem clumsy by comparison.

There we have an example of the difference in method and operation between scientists and diplomats—a difference which, if left unreconciled, contains an incalculable peril.

OBSOLETE?

It is nearly two years since the first atomic bomb was dropped. In that time the diplomats have not even come close to agreement on control. In the same time the scientists may well have carried their lethal experiments to the point where the new weapon is already obsolete.

Surely the settling of human differences over a method of mutual survival is no more difficult than a blind groping for the key to one of nature's most basic secrets. Yet the human beings concerned with the first problem have approached it in a spirit of disagreement, while those who have grappled with the second have united their talents in a common purpose.

We do not believe that a push-button war or any other sort of war is imminent. But agreement on atomic energy control is not imminent, either. And the possibility must be faced that, when the nations have really decided on a method of control, science may have carried the development of mass-extermination weapons far beyond.

It should not be thought that, because America, Britain, and New Zealand have announced a new secret weapon, they are the only countries pursuing a successful search. Such research cannot be stopped (short of killing all the world's scientists) except by an agreement to control it.

That control will surely require an international strength and authority, and a surrender of sovereignty and secrecy, never contemplated before by the world's governments. But there is no alternative so long as jealousy and distrust exist between governments. It is time diplomats began thinking more of human lives and less of national pride. It is time they began feeling the desperate urgency their task demands.

His Mission Became A Haven For Wives

Australian News Letter

THE world's only Roman Catholic "polygamist" bishop—he has 150 "wives"—boarded a small motor ship at Darwin recently on the first stage of a pilgrimage to his home in Alsace-Lorraine. It will be his second visit in 50 years, his first in 25 years.

He is Dr. Francis Xavier Gsell, Bishop of Darwin, whose tribe of "wives"—all black as the Ace of Spades—makes him unique.

A Frenchman, born near Strasbourg, the Bishop left home at 14 to study for the priesthood at Issoudan, the mother house of Missionaries of the Sacred Heart, and after a few years was selected, because of his scholastic brilliance, to continue his studies in Rome.

There he learnt to speak Italian fluently and at the age of 25 was awarded the Doctorate of Divinity and ordained. He arrived in Australia in 1897, able to speak French, Italian and German, but little English.

In 1900 he went to Papua, where he worked near Port Moresby for six years, but in 1906 he was appointed Administrator Apostolic and went to Darwin. He has been there ever since establishing the Roman Catholic Church, the now famous Bathurst Island mission and acquiring 150 "wives," whom he marries off to other husbands as they feel like it.

The story of how Bishop Gsell became the first "married" priest in the world is a classic of white man's guile and missionary zeal against the cunning of the savage Bathurst Island blacks of the early 1900's.

The bearded bishop, then an exceptionally powerful young man in his 30's, had not long been on Bathurst Island when he was confronted by a 10-year-old native girl who was shivering with fear at the thought of a tribal retribution she knew was following close behind.

TOOK FLIGHT

She had been promised in marriage before her birth, according to the tribal custom, but when she saw the savage old man who wanted to add her to his already large collection of wives, she raced into the bush with the tribe's best trackers hot on her trail.

Young girls had fled before from the bearded relics who were to be their husbands. Their flight broke a marriage taboo and was always punishable by death, sometimes in most horrible fashion.

In pidgin, the frightened girl explained her plight to Missionary Gsell and cowered when she saw the tribal judges led by her husband-elect, come out of the scrub into the mission clearing.

But Dr. Gsell had not been living among the natives for nothing. He had studied their psychology, and he gambled on what he thought he knew about it.

He summoned a couple of mission boys and repeated the magic words, "Flour," "Sugar," "Tobacco," "Tomahawk." They went to the mission store, their every movement followed by all eyes in the murder party now waiting grimly—but quietly—near the mission veranda.

ESTABLISHED TRADE

The mission boys came back carrying bags of flour and sugar, sticks of tobacco, a few tomahawks. They put them in an orderly pile.

The issue was never in doubt and the girl changed hands and found a new "husband."

The blacks went away and waited for the next rebellious wife to make a break. The news had spread, and in the following years, knowing that there was now an alternative to death, many more girls ran out on their husbands and headed straight for the mission, followed at leisurely pace by the traders.

In 18 years Bishop Gsell bought 150 girls at an average price of £2 a head in goods.

The Life Of Reilly

AT THIS SEASON, when thoughts of summer vacations intrude on mental processes throughout the day, the words of William J. Reilly, career consultant, in the July Reader's Digest, are particularly appealing. "If your job is work, not fun, you will probably be wise to get out of it," he counsels. "Work is something you don't enjoy doing. Your life is too short and too valuable to fritter away on a job that bores you, forces you to be with people you don't like, or calls for a knack you haven't got."

Moreover, says Mr. Reilly, the usual excuses: "I don't have the money"—"I don't have the time"—"My family won't let me"—should never be allowed to prevent a shift in jobs. There, surely, is a call to courage. This authority further presents three factors that are paramount in estimating the chances of success in any job: your ability to do the job, your capacity for getting along well with your associates on it, and your actual desire to do it.

SUITABLE MATERIAL

With all these things we agree, at present. And our analysis of our own capacities, with a view to transforming work into fun, has not been unfruitful. We sleep well. We eat well. And we have a considerable conceit over our ability to absorb suntans. We find it ourselves, in fact, highly suitable material for resort advertising. We feel it would be fun, not work, to prove the merits of some lake-side lodge which requires only some well-publicized personification of its benefits to attract thousands of visitors. But we have heard no great clamor for these talents. And while we know what we would like to do, we are impressed by the fact that some of our hours must be devoted to producing a pay cheque. And we have, moreover, an uncomfortable suspicion that everyone, no matter how fond he may be of his job, goes through similar periods of revulsion against it.

So while we would dearly love to lead the Digest's life of Reilly, we keep rising unwillingly with alarm clock, pecking away with not to much inspiration at a typewriter, and letting our idea of our responsibilities outweigh our desire to get away from it all. But we thank Mr. Reilly for the suggestion he has given us in the Digest article. It was a nice thought.—A.H.S.

HOPEFUL MOOD

The Times of London

It is not too much to say that the whole atmosphere of international debate has changed to a healthier and more hopeful mood. The first condition for European recovery—the achievement of a specifically European conference attended by the Powers of the eastern as well as the western part of the Continent—seems within sight of fulfilment. The interests of the countries of Europe today are closely and inseparably woven together.

LOOKING DOWN

Windsor Star

A young man once found a $2 bill on the road. From that time on, he never lifted his eyes from the ground, says The Santa Fe Magazine. In the course of 40 years he accumulated 29,516 buttons, 52,172 pins, seven pennies, a bent back and a miserly disposition.

He lost the glories of the light, the smiles of his friends, the songs of birds, the beauties of Nature and opportunity to serve his fellow man and spread happiness.

CHILD CULTURE

Halifax Herald

Children, as Ruskin insisted, are the only real addition to the world's wealth. All that we usually call wealth—gold, silver, timber, iron, steel and all that we make from them—would be valueless if no children were coming into the world.

What we have to learn is that we must give the child the right atmosphere. All we can do is to get the conditions right. Give a seed the right kind of soil, take the weeds and stones out of its way, let the air, sun and rain have free access to it, and it will become what it was meant to become. But if you put it in bad soil and let stones and weeds smother it, and keep it away from sun and air and rain, you will spoil its growth and hinder its development.

BEWARE THE FESTIVAL

Western Business Magazine

Some commercial organizations in western Canada, without investigating the background of the effort, have paid toward the Communist-dominated scheme to take a boatload of young Canadians and Americans to the International Youth Festival in Prague, Czechoslovakia.

The Communists are adept at the game of organizing non-Communists to participate in the activities carefully plotted out for them by Red strategists. Youth is their special field of interest.

It would be infinitely more to the point for youth leaders to arrange for delegations of youths from Russia and her puppet neighboring states to come to Canada and the United States to observe how we have achieved such abundance, opportunity and freedom for our people. But that, of course, would be impossible, for the youth would not be free to travel aboard and see the outside world for themselves.

In American Eyes

Letter to Coming Events in the British Isles

Sir: As an American tourist I have been interested in your articles on catering for visitors from the United States. Would you consider it out of place if I passed on my opinion? I would say:

1—American visitors are not looking for decorated china. They would be disappointed if they found it.

2—They are not looking for porter-house steaks. They believe no such thing can be had in England.

3—They are not coming to England to find hot water, soap and towels in their bedrooms and a hot bath twice daily.

4—They are coming to England to see her as she has been pictured, and as she really is, without any camouflage, and would be very critical of their government on returning if they found it otherwise.

Finally, I am of the opinion it would be a real blessing if, for just six months only, half the population of New York City were compelled to live in England under the conditions and trials of real rationing and control of every commodity that have existed in England for six years.

At the end of six months I feel there would exist a real spirit of good will between our land, flowing with milk and honey, and England, whose people have been the bulwark of liberty for many generations, and once in her history had to stand alone until America was stabbed in the back at Pearl Harbor.

Peru Shipment May Mark New Outlet For B.C. Seed Potatoes

Arrival in Peru of a sample shipment of seed potatoes from B.C. may herald the opening of a new outlet for seed potatoes from this province, according to a statement issued today by Trade and Industry Minister L. H. Eyres.

The minister said the sample shipment had arrived in good condition and was sent to the northern section of Peru for planting on an experimental basis by the ministry of agriculture there. Further reports should be available in about five months' time.

Arrangements were completed by the B.C. Department of Trade and Industry in co-operation with the Lima office of the Foreign Trade Service, and the federal and provincial departments of agriculture. Shipment was made by the Northern Certified Seed Potato Growers' Co-operative Association in Vancouver.

Solarium Food Bill Increased By 50%

At a meeting of the board of directors of the Solarium it was reported that six new patients had been admitted to the Solarium during May.

Infants of a few weeks old with clubbed feet were among those admitted.

Eleven patients were discharged during May to their homes, and among these the following cases are noteworthy: Dolores was admitted to the Solarium from Courtenay on April 10, 1943, at the age of 11, with severe contractions of the limbs through acute rheumatic fever. She was discharged to her parents on May 21 wearing splints on both legs and able to get about well in spite of stiff knees. Wallace came from Sidney on June 6, 1946, at the age of seven years, and was treated with penicillin for bronchiectasis. He was discharged on May 15, 1947, presumably cured. Jeffrey was admitted from the Children's Hospital of Vancouver on Oct. 13, 1946, at the age of six and received treatment for Perthe's disease of the right hip and also for pneumonitis. He was discharged on crutches wearing a patten on one shoe, and is to return for a check of his condition in three months' time. Margaret, who had been readmitted on Jan. 23, 1947, was treated with another course of penicillin for chronic osteomyelitis of the right femur and tibia and was discharged on May 11. She will return later for a recheck. The seven other discharged children had been in the Solarium for from one to two months for the treatment of various ills such as paralysis, rheumatism, general debility, third degree burns and refitting of splints.

Sixty patients remained in hospital on May 31. Up to this date in June, 12 patients have been admitted and three have been discharged, leaving 69 children in the hospital at this date. Three children are expected soon, and three other cases are on the waiting list for admission.

While revenue items compare with the average over the past five years, nearly all items of expenditure exhibit a continuous increase over those of past months and years. Food costs have increased by over 50 per cent over 1942 figures, and the cost of fuel and light has risen sharply.

The Solarium is now in a position to undertake the making of preserves and jams and contributions of fruit will be most welcome. Anyone having fruit to spare may call the Solarium Office, E 4821.

Bakery Workers Still Negotiate

Negotiations are continuing between the Bakery and Confectionery Workers' Union and bakery owners in Vancouver, Victoria, Nanaimo and New Westminster, it was reported to a meeting of the Victoria Local 267. They have been proceeding for two months.

Wm. McGuren, Seattle, international representative for district No. 10 has been added to the bargaining representatives for the union.

W. F. Schnitzler of Chicago, international secretary-treasurer of the union, told members that if the bakery industry was organizing itself on a national scale into chain bakeries, the workers should strive for master agreements on a national scale also.

Party Fails To Reach Mt. McKinley Peak

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP) — Turned back 3,000 feet short of their goal—the 20,270-foot peak of Mount McKinley—by the altitude sickness of one of their party, three University of Alaska mountaineers were at the Mount McKinley National Park today.

Morton Woods, 23, of Boston, suffered from the altitude at 17,000 feet and his companions, George Schumann, 22, Santa Maria, Calif., and Gordon Herreid, also of Santa Maria, decided to abandon their mountain climbing.

They brought Woods down to the 11,000-foot level, where he recovered quickly.

Plane Wreck Found Near Manila; 6 Dead

MANILA (AP)—Wreckage of a United States army C-45 transport plane was found 150 yards from the top of 3,360-foot Mount Maklining, 30 miles southeast of Manila, today and a search party reported that all six officers aboard apparently were killed outright.

NOTICE

A Message to the Citizens of Greater Victoria

In view of many erroneous statements brought to our attention and purported to have been made by members of the Sello Bros. Circus, to the public attending, we of the VICTORIA LIONS CLUB emphatically REPEAT that we did on May 19 definitely and positively refuse the use of the name VICTORIA LIONS CLUB, or LIONS INSIGNIA, in any way whatsoever in connection with the above-mentioned circus.

WE SINCERELY CHERISH and respect the kindness and support you have given us in the past and it is our earnest desire to continue to earn your respect for many years to come in all our WORTHWHILE endeavors.

THE VICTORIA LIONS CLUB have not, or will not receive any benefits from the recent visit of this circus to Victoria.

More Veterans Planning To Evacuate Braefoot Estate

"Some say they are going to move out immediately and others plan on the same action as soon as they can find other accommodation," said Robert Knight, representative of the Victoria and District Zone Council of the Canadian Legion, today in regard to the latest activity by war veteran occupants of Veterans' Land Act homes on Braefoot Estate, who are bitterly dissatisfied with the construction of their dwellings. One veteran moved his family away some time ago.

In addition to this, contractor Leslie G. Scott, World War I veteran, has withdrawn his men from the job owing to continued interference by V.L.A. officials in work done on Braefoot homes.

Announcement of the action by the veterans and Mr. Scott, followed a meeting of the Braefoot Estate housing committee Friday.

Mr. Scott was not being given a free hand to make repairs on the homes, Mr. Knight said, "and that is the reason for his action." The contractor was appointed by the Dominion government to make repairs, following a report of recommendations submitted by a government-appointed committee of himself, J. Y. Carter and S. D. Buzzelle.

The government agreed to pay the cost of repairs as recommended. The meeting was highly critical of the repairs authorized and the slowness of the government in implementing the recommendations.

Mr. Knight produced a letter at the meeting from R. W. Mayhew, M.P., for Victoria, as an added illustration of bad treatment the veterans were getting in relation to their homes. This was a reply to a query as to the repairs required by one home.

Mr. Mayhew's letter said in part: "My recommendation to Veterans' Minister Ian Mackenzie, who saw the house, was that to fix it properly, the siding would have to be completely removed, insulation put in and a complete re-siding of stucco or lap siding installed." The Victoria member of Parliament said the minister assured him this would be done.

"And instead of this being done," said Mr. Knight, "the contractor was ordered to fill in the cracks with putty and cover it over with paint."

Eisenhower Subject To Army Recall

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower says he will "remain in the army" and work for national security even after he takes over the presidency of Columbia University.

The army Chief of Staff told reporters Friday that by agreement with President Truman and the university trustees he will remain subject to recall to the capital for consultations at any time.

As university president, Gen. Eisenhower said he will have no greater interest in personal politics than as Chief of Staff and his disclaimed any political ambitions whatever.

C.I.O. Plans To Take Labor Curb Bill Into U.S. Courts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The high command of the Congress of Industrial Organizations passed the word to member unions today that the battle of the Taft-Hartley Labor Act will be fought in the United States courts and in the 1948 national elections.

Rejecting all suggestions of a general protest strike, the 51-member C.I.O. executive board decided to (1) attack the new law's constitutionality and (2) call on the American Federation of Labor and railroad unions for a united attempt to beat the Congressmen who voted for it.

Philip Murray, C.I.O. president, said the C.I.O. will take aim on the Taft-Hartley bill's ban against union political contributions or editorial expression for or against congressional candidates in newspapers supported by union funds.

"We will not comply with the unconstitutional limitations on political activity which are written into the Taft-Hartley bill," Murray said. He proposed a meeting of himself and leaders of the other big unions to work out joint strategy for the court and election fight.

He sent invitations to William Green, president of the A.F.L.; Alvanley Johnston, head of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers; A. F. Whitney, chief of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, and Arthur Lyon, secretary of the Railroad Labor Executives' Association, which represents the other railroad brotherhoods.

City Leads In Week's Building

The city of Victoria led in building figures for permits issued during the past week, with building valued at $117,560. Saanich was second with permits totaling $54,200, while Oak Bay figures were $24,380, and Esquimalt, $5,170.

Theh city's permits included several fairly large commercial permits and nine dwellings. Among the commercial permits issued were $23,000 alterations for the Imperial Bank of Canada, $15,000 alterations for the Arcade Building, 12,000 alterations to Ormond's biscuit factory, and $6,000 alterations to the former Kit Kat Cafe building.

Two of Oak Bay's four permits were for dwellings, and 13 houses were included in the 22 permits issued in Saanich. Value of the new homes is $47,950.

ADMIRABLE SYMPOSIUM

"Toward a Better World" edited by William Scarlett (John C. Winston Co. Ltd.)

TWELVE LEADING churchmen and thinkers of the modern world have contributed articles to this symposium which could be read to advantage by every thinking citizen of the world.

The articles deal with the place of the church in the modern world and what the Christian can contribute to world peace and decent living. They were written at the request of the Joint Commission on Social Reconstruction, of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States and edited by William Scarlett, Bishop of the Diocese of Missouri.

Such problems as racial minorities, with particular reference to the Negro and Japanese groups in the United States, the atomic bomb, full employment, the United Nations and relations with Russia are discussed in a dispassionate and well-balanced manner by such authorities as Eleanor Roosevelt, Sumner Welles, Reinhold Neibuhr, Frances Perkins and Arthur Holly Compton, to name but a few.

American policy towards Russia, and the type of propaganda which has been issued of late months comes in for strong criticism from Reinhold Neibuhr and Bishop Scarlett, who states unequivocally "The alternative to co-operation with Russia is war, and the way must be found to escape such a disaster."

JOE LOUIS' STORY

"My Life Story," by Joe Louis (Collins).

A STRAIGHTFORWARD account of his fistic career is given by Joe Louis in "My Life Story," a book which will appeal not only to fight fans, but to the many who have admired Louis, not only for his ability as a boxer but for his unfailing fairness in the ring.

He tells of his life from a humble Alabama farm to the top rung of the fight ladder. He pays great tribute to his mother who encouraged him all the way, and told him he could be a boxer, "but remember you've got to be a good one."

Throughout the book he appears as a man who could take criticism and who learned something from everyone he met. He told of the advice of his well-loved trainer, Jack Blackburn: "The boxing game is a tough one and for a colored fighter it is even tougher. You've got to fight clean and be on the level always."

And Joe always fought clean. The only man he was ever "mad at" in the ring was Max Schmeling who he said hit him hard, just after the bell rang finishing a round.

This is not a pretentious book, but a human interesting document on the fight career of one of the ring's greats. Its style is almost that of a feature interview in a newspaper. There is no boasting when Louis tells of the 300 boxing exhibitions he gave for soldiers while in the army. When he risked his title in 1942 and gave all the money to navy relief, a reporter asked him why, saying no other champ in history had ever done that.

"America has given me a chance and I am grateful. But things would be a lot better for our country if all the people would pull together like one big team."

There is an excellent album of photos from various news services, taken of Louis on and off his fighting job.

Professional Painter

Of course a good painter knows good paint, and its vital importance in getting good results. It takes no more time or effort to use good paint on a job than to use inferior material and the final (and permanent) results are incomparable. The painter is, in most cases, an independent business man and his reputation depends on the quality of his work. Perhaps that's why so many of Victoria's dependable professional painters like to buy paints and supplies at

Babv To Receive Names Sunday At Metropolitan Church

A christening ceremony will be held on Sunday at 2 in Metropolitan United Church, when the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Martindale, pictured above with her mother, will receive the names Beverley Mae. Dr. A. E. Whitehouse will officiate and following the ceremony a reception for the immediate family has been arranged at the home of the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Jones, 2587 Dalhousie Street. Among guests will be the baby's great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Harte. Mrs. R. Vaio and Mrs. Harte have been invited to preside at the tea table, which will be centred with a christening cake.

Doreen McDougall Principal In Vancouver Wedding Service

Of much interest in the city was the ceremony performed in Vancouver Thursday morning when Rev. W. W. Wagg, assisted by Rev. J. J. Smithson, united in marriage his granddaughter, Miss Eida Doreen McDougall and Ernest Alfred Benton, son of Mrs. Rose B. Benton and the late Ernest J. Benton, New Westminster.

The bride, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. R. H. McDougall, 1074 Oliver Street, entered First Baptist Church, Vancouver, with her father. Diamond earrings, gift of the groom, were striking with her gown of white marquisette, designed with lace inserts, shirred bodice and full skirt, slightly en train. Lace from the veil worn by the groom's mother, was used in the Mary Queen of Scots headdress from which the bride's veil misted over all. Her shower bouquet was of Sweetheart roses and stephanotis.

Muted candlelight enriched the early Victoria gowns of pink and turquoise taffeta, fashioned with bustle drapes, worn by senior attendants, Miss Margaret Phillipson and Miss Joanne Ferguson, both of Chilliwack. They wore bandeaus of flowers in their hair and carried Colonial bouquets.

Miniatures of the bridesmaids were little flower girls, Marilyn Thompson and Anne Benton, nieces of the groom, in their frocks of blue and yellow taffeta. They carried Colonial posies.

Groomsman was Howard Day, and Douglas McDougall, brother of the bride, and Earle Mancell were ushers.

York Room, Hotel Georgia, was the scene of the reception where mothers of the newlyweds and grandmother of the bride, Mrs. W. W. Wagg, assisted in receiving guests. Dr. T. H. Johns, Victoria, gave the bridal toast. Serviteurs were Misses Pat Forbes, Jean Stanford, Vancouver; Misses Joy Eyres, Joyce Wilkinson, Joan Challoner, Victoria, and Miss Ruth Chalmers, Penticton.

For the wedding trip, motoring to the interior of B.C., she chose crushed strawberry accessories with her blue gabardine suit and grey topcoat.

Mr. and Mrs. Benton will reside in Seattle, where the bride will complete her final year in pharmacy at University of Washington, and the groom will continue his study of medicine.

Mrs. W. Blair Again Heads P.-T. Council

Mrs. William Blair was re-elected president of the Victoria and District Parent-Teacher Council in annual meeting Friday evening at the Little Centre.

Other officers are: Honorary president, J. F. K. English; first vice-president, Mrs. G. W. Pottinger; second vice-president, J. Bryant; recording secretary, Mrs. J. R. Simpson; corresponding secretary, Mrs. W. H. Grimm; treasurer, Mrs. A. F. Gyles.

Chairman of committees are: N. Robertson, youth welfare; Mrs. W. H. Hudson, publicity; J. Halstead, recreation; Mrs. Reg. Freemantle, discussion; Mrs. B. A. Thompson, health; Mrs. B. D. Ashworth, literature; R. E. Lawrence, radio; Mrs. R. H. McInnes, parliamentarian; A. Cullen, historian; Mrs. R. H. Flint, pre-school; Mrs. J. H. McGee, social; Mrs. J. B. Reid, hospitality; Mrs. J. J. Carney, junior citizens; Mrs. L. McLennan, pianist; A. Jacobs, safety.

During the meeting it was announced that plans had been completed for the annual picnic at Willows Park on July 9.

Following election of officers, Rev. William Hills addressed the gathering.

Graduation Exercises At Victoria West

The auditorium of Victoria West School was decorated by Miss E. Kennedy, with a profusion of summer flowers for the dress parade of Grade 8 graduation class.

R. T. Kipling, school principal, extended a welcome to the large gathering of parents and guests. Miss Creighton and J. Dee introduced the graduation class. H. S. Hurn addressed the graduates.

Leadership cups were presented to Lorraine Hilton by C. F. Banfield, honorary president of Victoria West P.-T.A. M. Hallam, president, presented a similar award to Robert Berube.

Proficiency prizes were awarded to Robert Carmichael by H. S. Hurn, and to Florence Erwin by J. F. K. English, senior municipal inspector of schools. The valedictory address was given by Alice Nuttall.

A musical program was arranged with violin solos by Jacqueline Johnston, and songs by the girls of Grades 7 and 8. Beverley Smith made a presentation to Mr. Kipling on behalf of the class.

Manuel training work done by the boys, was on display.

Mrs. W. Blair, president, Greater Victoria and District Council, and Miss Isla Tuck were among guests present. Mrs. R. T. Kipling presided at the tea table which was centred with a bowl of roses.

Refreshments were served by Grade 7 girls and members of the P.-T.A.

W.A. to Pro Patria, No. 31, card party, Monday at 8 in Hard of Hearing Hall. Refreshments will be served.

Rings Exchanged In Wedding Rites

An early evening marriage was solmenized Monday at Fairfield United Church, when wedding rings were exchanged by Miss Helen Margaret, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred J. Croft, 1526 Dallas Road, and Robert R. Friebel, youngest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Friebel, Balcarres, Sask. Dr. Sipprell and Rev. William Allen performed the service.

Silk net misted over the bride's gown of pastel blue georgette, fashioned with fitted bodice, embroidered with seed pearls. Her shower bouquet was of pink rosebuds and gardenias.

Sole attendant was Miss Helen Ginger, who chose a pink halo headdress with shoulder veil, with her gown of pale pink taffeta. She carried an arm bouquet of pink carnations and snapdragons.

During the signing of the register, Arthur Stringer sang, "I'll Walk Beside You."

Best man, A. R. C. Hebden, proposed a toast to the bride at a reception at Terry's Rose Room, where Mrs. Croft assisted in welcoming guests. The three-tier cake was cut by the bridal pair.

Mr. and Mrs. Friebel will travel to Calgary, Regina and Winnipeg for their wedding trip, returning to the city to make their home.

For her going away ensemble the bride wore a pastel blue suit, white hat and accessories and corsage bouquet of gardenias.

Queen Hears Story Of Northern B.C.

LONDON (CP)—The Court Circular reported Thursday that Miss Monica Storrs of Fort St. John, B.C., had been received in audience Wednesday by the Queen. It was understood the conversation dealt almost entirely with Miss Storr's experiences as a welfare worker in northern British Columbia durbing the last 15 years.

Miss Storrs is a sister of Sir Ronald Storrs, veteran British Foreign Office official noted for his work in the Middle East. She will return to Canada next month.

Garden Party—Annual garden party of Church of Our Lord will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Laundy, 1833 Beach Drive, Saturday from 3 to 5.30. There will be stalls of home cooking, candy and ice cream, also ping pong and clock golf.

England did not produce more than 45 per cent of her foodstuffs before the war.

Peggy Ready Bride In Early Afternoon Rites At St. John's

Gleaming white satin in the exquisite bridal gown worn by Miss Peggy Ready, glistened in the early afternoon sun as she entered St. John's Anglican Church today with her father to become the bride of William Thomas Glass, only son of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Glass, 203 Quebec Street.

A chapel veil, arranged beneath a small white beauty cap, misted over the gown worn by the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Ready, 635 Langford Street. The bouffant hoop-skirt, open down the front to reveal a dainty lace inset, was swept back into a full train; a wide band of delicate lace edged the off-the-shoulder neckline, and the same lace encircled the fitted sleeves, above the wrists. The bride, wearing an heirloom diamond and ruby pendant, carried a round bouquet of gardenias centred with pale blue forget-me-nots.

Tall baskets of white gladioli, jasmine and pale blue delphiniums harmonized with the starched white off-the-shoulder frocks of dotted swiss with crinoline skirts, worn by bridal attendants who carried Colonial bouquets of pale blue cornflowers. Wreaths of the same blossoms were worn in their hair. Senior attendants were Mrs. K. E. Jones and Miss Barbara Wilson, and Miss Jean McKay, was junior attendant.

W. F. Bishop and G. Ready seated guests for the service conducted by Rev. George Biddle. Rod McGraw was best man.

Attractive floral arrangements repeated the blue and white theme at the reception at the Duke of Kent Room, Empress Hotel. W. F. Bishop gave the toast to the bride. Mrs. Ready and Mrs. Glass stood with the couple as they welcomed guests. Mrs. J. N. Donnelly, Vancouver, and Mrs. H. T. Scott presided at the urns.

A motor trip to California is the honeymoon plan of the newlyweds following which they will return to spend the summer here before taking up residence in Vancouver.

A squirrel stole added a striking note to the bride's three-piece grey Barathea suit, with which she wore an open crown navy straw hat, navy accessories and corsage bouquet of orchids.

Sextette Of Maids In Flower-Hued Gowns Attend Miss Chan

Soft hues of an early summer flower garden sparkled in gowns worn by a sextette of bridal attendants to provide a perfect foil the gleaming gown of satin and lace, sweeping into a full train, worn by Gladys Chan, for her marriage Wednesday at 8.30 at St. John's Anglican Church to Kenneth E. Lee.

Rev. George Biddle conducted the service for the third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chan Dun, 1409 Government Street, and the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Y. Lee, 1617 Bancroft Way, Berkeley, Calif. Rev. Lim Yuan assisted.

Choir boys sang during the signing of the register, and F. Chubb presided at the organ.

An orchid bouquet showered with bouvardia and stephanotis was carried by the bride, given in marriage by her father. A deep band of lace on the hoop-skirt was repeated on the off-the-shoulder neckline, and a circular lace cuff completed the long satin sleeves of her period gown with which the bride wore a lace-trimmed chapel veil.

Delicate shades of pink; apple green and ice blue in slightly en train satin gowns were worn by maid of honor, Miss Mary Mark, and bridesmaids, Miss Dorcas Chan, sister of the bride, and Miss Gladys Nipp. All carried gardenias set in net and velvet to match their gowns, and wore satin gloves.

A charming picture were three little maids, all nieces of the bride, Lenora Chan, Vivian Chan and Brenda Mark, Winnipeg, in net gowns of old rose, turquoise, and yellow. They carried colonial bouquets.

John Mar stood with the groom as best man. Ronnie Lee, Vancouver, and Paul Chan, brother of the bride, seated the guests.

White wisteria in shallow bowls and lighted candles flanked the four-tier wedding cake, at the reception held at the Kit Kat Banquet Hall, the bridal pair with their mothers, Mrs. Chan Dun and Mrs. C. Y. Lee, received the guests. Leonard Hobbs gave the toast to the bride and Dr. Hsin Kan Chen acted as master of ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee, wearing smart twin suits in grey, the bride topping her suit with turquoise gabardine coat, and choosing grey suede shoes and bag, with her grey model hat, left by train for Los Angeles and Mexico. Following their wedding trip, they will make their home in Oakland, Calif.

Marriage Vows Made At Truth Centre

Before intimate friends and relatives Wednesday evening at Victoria Truth Centre, marriage vows were exchanged by Miss Gertrude Newfeld, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cancellor, 2815 Inlet Avenue, and Edward George Williams, eldest son of Mrs. A. Harris, 3553 Wascana Street. Rev. Emma Smiley officiated.

The bride wore crisp white accessories and corsage bouquet with her smart tailleur of smoke blue. She was given in marriage by Jack Heath Sutton-Wilkinson.

Mrs. Howard Williams, bridal attendant was attired in an afternoon frock of fuchsia, with corsage bouquet of small white flowers. The groom was attended by his brother, Howard Williams.

Following the ceremony a reception was held, with ladies of the Victoria Truth Centre serving refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams will honeymoon in Vancouver and points up-Island, following which they will return to the city to make their home at 2835 Delatre Street.

Do You Feel Nervous And All on Edge?
People suffering from loss of appetite and run-down condition with symptoms of nerve strain often need a nerve and general tonic. Glycero-Lecithin with Vitamin B(1) supplies tonic ingredients. It is especially beneficial for convalescents. By increasing the supply of Vitamin B(1) in the system, appetite is improved and the system thereby built up to normal if the loss of appetite was due to deficiency of Vitamin B(1) in the diet. $1.00 at all Cunningham Drug Stores and other drug stores.

Red Cross Notes

Belmont Unit — A sum of $625.80 was cleared at the garden party at Royal Roads, it was announced by treasurer W. S. Stevenson at an executive meeting of Belmont Unit of the Red Cross, held at the home of the secretary, Mrs. F. Burbidge, Colwood on Thursday evening. The president, F. J. Willway thanked members present, representing Happy Valley, Luxton, Colwood and Langford, for their work in marking the garden party a success. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Must Change Thinking Tempo Nancy Hodges Tells Women

Speaking Friday evening before more than 500 women of Quota Club International Inc., gathered at the Empress Hotel for their third large dinner party of the convention, Mrs. Nancy Hodges, M.L.A., took for her subject, "Women — 1947 Model."

Mrs. Hodges developed her theme to emphasize the need for women to gear their thinking and course of action to today's tempo.

She took her audience back over the road traveled by women since they acquired the franchise, both in Canada and the United States, remarking upon the comparatively small political and economic progress made in that time, largely because of the indolence and apathy of women themselves.

"If the war brought anything home to us, it is that the time has gone when we can segregate women into one social, economic or political pigeonhole and men into another," said Mrs. Hodges, in urging her Quotarian listeners not to confine themselves to espousing causes, but to get down into positive results—and that is in politics.

MUST ORGANIZE

But results in that arena are not achieved by passing resolutions. They come from organized effort, from intensive study, from the intelligent use of the ballot, from bringing every available democratic influence to bear upon the actual, living processes of our own democracies, declared the speaker. "Our influence as women will not be adequately exerted if we remain, each one of us limited to the narrow sphere of our own special, often traditional interest."

To that end, the woman of 1947-48 must gear her thinking to the spiritual as well as the material needs of the times, must so streamline her activities as to concentrate on the really worthwhile things, rather than dissipate her energies on inconsequentials. She must, Mrs. Hodges concluded, be ready to take her place alongside men, with an equal measure of social, economic and political responsibilities—and rewards—to ensure more feminine balance in the running of the world.

The new international president, Marie E. Higgins, presided.

At a luncheon held Friday honoring district governors, Beatrice E. Merrin, third vice-president, was hostess and introduced the governors.

Wanda Frey Joiner, founder and honorary life president of the organization, spoke on "Quota's Pioneers and Leaders."

A presentation of a gift and corsage bouquet of pink carnations was made to Jenny O'Neill, Quota Club's oldest member, also a presentation to Dr. Merrin who was retiring from office.

Mrs. Marie Higgins Heads Quota Clubs

Mrs. Marie Higgins, Youngstown, Ohio, was elected international president of Quota Club International Inc., in business session at the Sirocco, Friday.

Other international officers are Mrs. Edith M. Glaze, San Jose, Calif, first vice-president; Wilhelmine Aragon, New Orleans, second vice-president; Imogene B. Emery, Cedar Rapids, Ia., third vice-president; Helena Hall, Lancaster, Pa., treasurer; Gladys Herrington, Saskatoon, and Dorothy Crim, Seattle, directors.

At the business meeting reports of committees were heard, including Frances Landry on "Legislative Discrimination Against Women"; B. Ethelda Mullen, "Membership Classification."

A panel discussion on Quota problems followed with Helen R. Scholderer, Gladys Herrington, Bernice Stoakes, Helen Mackenzie and Margaret Davenport taking part.

Business sessions concluded this morning and tonight the installation banquet will be held in the Crystal Ballroom at the Empress Hotel. Harriett Daggett, Baton Rouge Quota Club will be the speaker and her subject, "In Our Time."

30 Model T Fords Entered In Lions' Tin Lizzie Derby

With 30 model T Fords entered and final arrangements completed, members of the Victoria Lions Club are promising Victorians an afternoon of thrills, spills, bangs, slams and merriment at the Dominion Day Tin Lizzie Derby which is to be held next Tuesday at the Willows racetrack.

This will be the second annual running of the "Battle of Rattles." The first jalopy race was held last year and proved such a success and crowd pleaser, it was decided to make the derby an annual event on the program of the Victoria Lions Club. Last year, over 6,000 persons attended.

All drivers are non-professionals but are anxious to partake of the $1,000 prize money.

The race program calls for three seven-mile heat races with the winners to enter the 10 mile, main event. Losers of the heats will take part in novelty events which include a half-mile back-up race and a team relay.

Silver cups will be awarded to winners of the semifinals and a large trophy will be presented to the winner of the main event. Cass prizes will go to the first three driver in all heat races and to the first four in the main event. The prize for the winning auto in the final is $150. The second-place award is $75; third, $50, and fourth, $25.

Prizes will be presented by Reeve Walter Walker of Oak Bay.

Many of last year's contenders have again entered, including Alvin Nelson, present main event title-holder, and Oscar Guelpa, strongest challenger of last year's race.

The cars will all be stripped down to bare essentials for the races.

The afternoon program will not be limited to racing. Boy Scouts will take part in a grand rally and a special scout banner will be awarded to the troop with the best attendance and smartest appearance. The Victoria Boys' Band will provide musical entertainment.

A refreshment stand will be operated by members of the Lions Club Ladies' Auxiliary.

The track will be open at 1 p.m., with the program scheduled to start at 2 with a parade of all entries around the track.

The entire proceeds of the derby will go toward various local charities, supported by the Victoria Lions Club, which includes a hospital fund for "blue babies," the building of cottages for old-aged couples, and the maintenance of a Boy Scout troop.

The motto of the Lions Club is: "We help the aged and the young."

Permission for the use of the Willows racetrack has been granted by Owner Sam Randall.

Race Marshal

M. H. "Mill" Mooney, well-known auto man and member of the Victoria Lions Club, will act as race marshal of the Dominion Day Tin Lizzie Derby. Thirty Model T Fords are entered in the races and over $1,000 prize money will be awarded to winning contestants.

General Chairman

L. W. "Bill" Taverner is general chairman of the derby and carnival which will be held Tuesday, July 1, at the Willows race track. Mr. Taverner has worked many months preparing for this event, and promises it will supply much excitement to the spectators.

First Big Event

James Roberts, who is president-elect of the Victoria Lions Club, which is sponsoring the Dominion Day Tin Lizzie Derby. Mr. Roberts automatically takes office July 1, making the derby the first big event of his term of office.

Make Plans For Editors' Convention

Plans for the convention of the Canadian Weekly Newspapermen's Association, which will be held in Victoria Sept. 24 to 26, are progressing under the chairmanship of Lang Sands of Abbotsford. Approximately 600 weekly newspaper editors are expected to attend.

Several meetings of the program committee have already been held in Victoria, and business sessions for the convention will include reports from national officers, panel discussions on new equipment and printing methods and other factors entering into the production of a modern weekly.

There will be a tour of the B.C. government printing plant at the Legislative Buildings, technical addresses and other educational features.

One of the feature items will be the staging of a "newspaper clinic," hospital operating-room style, as was done by the Washington weeklies.

On the social program there will be sponsored luncheons, sightseeing tours of Vancouver Island scenic spots, with special entertainments arranged for the ladies.

Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

NO GLAMOUR GIRL FOR TURHAN BEY

HOLLYWOOD (NEA)—"I don't mind going out with Hollywood glamour girls socially, but I've never met one yet I'd consider marrying."

Turhan Bey speaking, girls.

Yes, the same Turhan Bey who has had romantic interludes with Lana Turner, Yvonne de Carlo and quite a few other movietown queens.

"Just beautiful friendships, nothing more," he told me on the set of the Eagle-Lion movie, "Out of the Blue."

Then he cracked out with some opinions that will probably have him diving off the Santa Monica pier, with the glamour dolls in hot pursuit.

"You just can't tell whether a Hollywood actress means what she's saying. After all, actresses get paid for parading their emotions. After awhile they become accustomed to emoting all the time and probably can't help themselves." Like, he said, the first time he fell in love with a Hollywood star.

"She was beautiful in a slinky black evening gown," Turhan said. "The night was balmy and the stars were twinkling overhead. I told her I loved her, and she turned toward me and said, 'I love you, too, darling.'

OLD SCRIPT TALK

"Then she started talking about love and emotions. Her choice of words was beautiful and I listened, entranced. All of a sudden it hit me. I'd heard those words before—in her last picture, complete with the same gestures.

"Even then I wouldn't have minded so much," Turhan said, "but she upstaged me."

Turhan looked gloomy.

"But you know what will probably happen. I'll meet a girl, an actress, a truly great actress. She'll convince me that all she wants out of life is to be happily married. So I'll propose and she'll accept. And as I turn to kiss her after the marriage ceremony, I'll find that she has upstaged me so that the audience can only see the back of my neck."

Humphrey Bogart's former wife, Mayo Methot, will try matrimony again, it's reported, with a wealthy gent from Portland, Ore. Bogie probably is much relieved. Until recently, Mayo was going places with a fellow who moored his yacht near Bogart's at Newport Beach. Mayo and Lauren Bacall would sit on deck and glare at each other.

NO FOOT APPEAL

Don Ameche had to walk down a long flight of stairs in pyjamas, bathrobe and bare feet for a scene in "Sleep, My Love." After one rehearsal, Director Douglas Sirk ordered Don to put on socks and slippers. Said the director, "I'm sorry, Don, but your bare feet just don't have sex appeal."

OAK BAY THEATRE

An unusual job of photography was given to the camera crew on "Brief Encounter" now showing at the Oak Bay Theatre. One sequence called for shots of the interior of the Palladium Cinema at Milford Junction, where Laura Jesson (Celia Johnson) and Alec (Trevor Howard) spend an afternoon together.

The shooting took place in the very attractive Metropole Cinema, London.

DOMINION THEATRE

Against a pioneer background is set one of the screen's most unusual love stories . . . Republic's "Angel and the Badman," starring John Wayne and Gail Russell, at the Dominion Theatre.

It is the story of love that overcomes the conflict of two widely different philosophies of life . . . of a Quaker girl who believes strongly in doing good, and a man motivated by a desire for revenge.

ATLAS THEATRE

Larry Parks is convinced that Al Jolson wore knee-pads when he was starring in all those Winter Garden show hits. Larry, who portrays Jolson in Columbia's technicolor, "The Jolson Story," currently at the Atlas Theatre, found that after the first few rehearsals of musical sequences for the film, his knee-joint had become sore and stiff from the typical Jolson pose that he had to adopt!

PLAZA THEATRE

A double concerto written especially for Tommy and Jimmy Dorsey by Academy Award Winning Composer Leo Shuken was pre-recorded by the Dorseys and an orchestra of 90 musicians for Charles R. Rogers' gay and lilting musical production, "The Fabulous Dorseys," now at the Plaza Theatre. "The Fabulous Dorseys" is based on the lives of Tommy and Jimmy, and stars Janet Blair with the two brothers

A QUAKER meets a renegade westerner and begins to wonder about love in "Angel and the Badman," now at the Dominion Theatre. Above, Gail Russell and John Wayne, featured stars.

ROYAL THEATRE

Paramounts "Calcutta," a murder mystery set against an Indian background and the flying of the "hump" between that country and China, is currently at the Royal Theatre. The film, stars Alan Ladd, Gail Russell and William Bendix, with June Duprez, Lowell Gilmore, Edith King and Gavin Muir in the principal supporting roles.

The story told in "Calcutta" revolves around the murder of a friend of two "hump" flying pilots, Ladd and Bendix, and tells of their successful efforts to round up the killers without the aid of the slow-moving police.

CAPITOL THEATRE

During his brief lifetime, composer George Gershwin was famous for expressing modern ideas in music.

Now, for the first time since his death in 1937, 11 previously unpublished George Gershwin melodies are being released by his estate. They will be heard in the new Twentieth Century-Fox Technicolor musical, "The Shocking Miss Pilgrim," which stars Betty Grable and Dick Haymes, and is now at the Capitol Theatre.

Schools' Senior Softball Champions

MONTEREY SCHOOL

Major Tournaments Mark Tennis Program

Revival of postwar tennis in Victoria, begun successfully last year, has been showing an even greater pace this season. Along with other coast cities, Victoria has shared a growing interest in the game due in no small measure to the acquisition of a first class professional coach. The community has been singularly fortunate in having as an instructor, Valerie Scott, seventh ranking woman player in the world before the war.

For the past several weeks, Miss Scott has been holding large group classes at the Victoria Lawn Tennis Club and many of her proteges are already showing a marked improvement. The noted professional, famous throughout the world for her amateur performances uses a sound system of instruction and develops players on an all-round basis, neglecting no stroke in the development of the student player. Miss Scott takes a great interest in junior development.

Although her instruction has been running only a short time, many players will undoubtedly feel the benefit of competent guidance in the forthcoming city championships to be held at the Victoria Club from July 5 to 12 inclusive.

The current renewal of the city event will usher in a season of first class tennis for both players and fans alike. The tournament this year will be run along the same lines as in previous years. An extra event, however, has been added, in the form of veterans' doubles for men over 50. Clubs have already indicated keen interest and competitors can secure entry forms from any club or from tournament manager, W. H. Dobbie, at B 1923.

A record entry is expected and will be a mixture of old faces and new. Battling for supremacy again will be present holder Henry Bennett and last year's runner-up, Carl Brand, who will undoubtedly draw the top seeded positions. However, looking over the city courts these days, one may note several promising players who by their form to date suggest that they might have little or no respect for the seedings of the tournament committee.

The tournament will provide an opportunity for Bennett to get some match play, as he will no doubt be trying out in Vancouver for a position on the team to represent western Canada in the matches to be played against an eastern Canadian team at the Victoria Club the week following the city championships. Commencing during the week of July 14, city tennis followers will be able to watch the finest Canadian players in a series of matches run along Davis Cup lines. Leading the western brigade will quite probably be Walt Stohlberg, recently crowned Vancouver city champion. Jim Skelton, also from the mainland city and Don Hodges of Regina, will be likely starters. Canada's 1947 Davis Cup team will be selected as a result of the Victoria trials, and will meet Australia in eastern Canada later in the summer.

After the east-west matches the players contest the Canadian championships in Vancouver and the major tournaments of the season will wind up in Victoria with the holding of the 50th British Columbia championships, commencing July 28. The B.C. is always a popular tournament with Victorians and is this year expected to draw not only noted Canadian players but also the usual strong contingent from Washington, Oregon and California.

Races Tonight

JACK PATTERSON

Weekly auto racing program will be presented at the Langford Speedway tonight with the Victoria drivers seeking prize money. Reverse main event will again feature the show. Leading drivers and cars from Seattle will participate. Time trials will start at 7.30.

Douglas Tire Defeat Blue Bird Cabs; Game Protested

Douglas Tire defeated Blue Bird Cabs 10 to 6 in a protested senior A softball game at Central Park last night.

Marred by constant bickering and unnecessary arguments, the game was protested by Jim Eddy, Blue Bird manager, who claimed that Douglas Tire were not using standard bats.

The victory, if allowed, puts the Tiremen in third place in the standings and drops the cabmen into the cellar.

Winners scored four unearned runs in the first inning to take a lead which was never seriously threatened. Rudy Dendy homered for Blue Birds in the eighth, while Henry Harris hit a four-bagger for the winners in the seventh.

Ken Gunter pitched the distance for the tiremen with Stan Tenning going the route for the losers.

Adverts defeated Eaglettes 7 to 6 in women's senior "A" game to maintain their hold on first place in the standings. A home run by Joyce Foster with two on in the seventh tied the score. Then successive singles by Thelma Turner and Jenny Robbins scored the winning run.

B.E.F.P. won another ball game in the senior B league, edging New Method Laundry 5 to 4. Ascot pitched for the league-leaders. R.C.N.A.D. beat Naval Stores 6 to 5 in another league game.

Douglas Hawkes trounced Esquimalt Taxi 26 to 7 in a junior boys' game.

$2,000 Angler's Aim In Solarium Derby

By "CAP" THORSEN

Spurred by the report that the Queen Alexandra Solarium requires the helping hand of all to gather the $500,000 needed for a construction program to replace the aged hospital housing and caring for the crippled young, the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association has mapped an all-out campaign to make the second annual Solarium derby a financial success.

Tomorrow morning, starting at 6, the signals will sound at Inlet points to unleash the angling derby crowd for a 10-hour hunt of the big springs in the inaugural salmon classic of the 1947 derby season of the association. Indications point to a large crowd for the opening event on the summer program, a washing machine and an outboard engine powered boat spotlighting a handsome prize array.

For more than one month now the directors have been doing the groundwork for the Solarium derby, which will be held in the same waters one week tomorrow on July 6. It will be open to the public.

The target the board has set its sights on this year tops the last year cheque handed to the institution by 25 per cent. In 1946 the anglers turned over $1,376 to the Solarium and this time they have set the objective at $2,000.

The View Street window of David Spencer Ltd. this week displayed the large collection of prizes that have been donated by business houses and individuals for the Solarium event and next week the display will be switched to the store of Roger Monteith.

Nineteen excellent prizes are up for competition, 13 of them for anglers weighing in the biggest salmon and a half dozen others for the non-fishing public, heading this list being the refrigerator—top prize of the entire event.

Sporting goods shops throughout the city, inlet boathouses and members of the association are armed with tickets for the Solarium program.

PRIZE LIST

The Solarium derby prize list follows:

CONSOLATION PRIZES

First, refrigerator; second, trilamp; third, H B C 4-point blankets; fourth, Penn star drag reel; fifth, electric heating pad, and sixth, $10 scrip.

FISHING PRIZES

First, mantel radio; second, club bag; third, trilamp; fourth, case of silver flatware; fifth, rod, reel and line; sixth, toastmaster; seventh, silver cake plate; eighth, electric kettle; ninth, tackle box and fish net; tenth, Kenwood blanket, and eleventh, liquid compass.

For junior angler weighing in the largest salmon—rod, reel and line.

For woman angler weighing in the heaviest salmon—a silver deposit bowl and a set of twin candle holders.

BREVITIES

Short shots on tomorrow's derby: Derby opens at 6 in the morning and closes at 4. . . . Director Dan Thomas will fire the starting and closing bombs at Brentwood, Tommy Cole handling this chore at the Goldstream end, and Gordon Holder at Deep Cove. . . . Anchorage headquarters to be the scene of prize-presentation shortly after 4, the committee in charge being directors Ed Short and Thomas and vice-president Chester Alexander. . . . In seeking special rowboat prize, derbyists in this type of craft must row their own and not be towed. . . . All fish must be on the float at the weigh-in Brentwood and Goldstream floats before the time signal sounds. . . . Only one rod per person may be used. . . . All those fishing in competitions in one boat must be paid-up members. Non-members are not eligible for prizes and are not allowed to fish with members.

Ian Dickson, south Pasadena, Calif., displays the 21½-pound spring he reeled in at the inlet last week.

Tennis Finals

Finals of the B.C. Electric Tennis Club championships will be played at the Bowker Avenue courts tomorrow. Competition has been keen and some good matches are expected. The draw follows:

10:00—Men's Doubles: Jack Elmsley and Lew Heppenstall vs. Don Mitchell and Andy Anderson.

1:30—Men's Singles: Lew Heppenstall vs. Ron Mitchell.

2:00—Ladies' Doubles: Win Elliott and Tommy Elmsley vs. Jo Hovelaque and Rita Nevard.

2:30—Ladies' Singles: Jocelyn Collison vs. Marge McConnan.

3:00—Mixed Doubles: Joan Webster and Don McClure vs. Rita Nevard and Ron Mitchell.

Legion Turn Back Navy To Continue Ball Win Streak

Canadian Legion continued their current winning streak in the senior ball loop last night by taking the bottom-place Navy nine into camp, 8 to 2.

Exploding for seven runs in the the second inning when the Navy defence fell apart, Vets salted the game away early. Outside of that uprising, little Jeff Worrell had complete control of the situation, setting the winners down with one lone tally.

Lloyd Cann, knuckleball veteran of the Legionnaires, pitched nine-hit ball in registering the triumph, and was only in trouble once during the game. Navy tallied both runs in the third inning on four singles. Cann struck out five and issued two walks.

Mickey Smith, who tops the loop in the runs-batted-in department, pounded in two more last night as well as picking up three hits in five trips. Jack Walker also got three for five for the winners. C. Padgett with two for four topped the sailor stickers.

Chemainus will play Navy at Macdonald Park Sunday at 2.30.

Fine Program For Annual Scottish Sports July 26

The Scottish Games, presented annually by the Victoria Highland Games Association, will be staged at Macdonald Park July 26, president E. M. Whyte announced today.

Officials of the association are going all-out to make this year's games one of the best ever and have prepared a fine program.

During the many years of its activities the association has fostered and encouraged competition in the traditional games of Scotland here in the city and this year's presentation will include many of these.

Besides the dancing and piping events, a fine track and field program has been announced. This alone should make the games an outstanding event as the cream of Canadian track and field talent will be available, the Dominion championships being scheduled in Vancouver the previous week.

Many fine prizes and trophies have been secured with the Wm. Auckland trophy going to the grand aggregate winner. The Dr. J. D. Hunter trophy will go to the track and field grand aggregate champion, with the Vancouver Island Piper's Society Cup being awarded to the junior piping champion.

Various rules and regulations govern the appearance of dancer and pipers in the open events and for clarification of these and the obtaining of entry forms, competitors are asked to contact the secretary of the association, John McKay, E 9138.

SPORTSMEN'S MEET POSTPONED

In view of the fact Tuesday is a holiday, the regular monthly meeting of the Victoria Fish and Game Protective Association will be held in the Boilermakers' Hall, Government Street, at 8 on the night of July 15.

NENEZICH! How Victoria baseball fans will remember that name, especially after what the little Caesar of the W.I.L. umpiring staff had to say about Ted Norbert and the Victoria Athletics in a press interview in Vancouver this week. According to the story Nenezich was here on a special mission, that was to straighten out manager Ted Norbert. To again quote the Vancouver story Nenezich is quoted: "We had a helluva week there, but Norbert will straighten out now. His club lost nine in 11 starts while we were there. Brother, do they love us."

THE GIST of the Nenezich story is that he came primarily to get Norbert and the Victoria club and he seemed quite proud of the fact that while he was umpiring Victoria games both here and on the road, the A's lost nine out of 11 games. Mr. Nenezich must be quite happy about that fact as he contributed greatly to it according to his own admission. Nenezich also told the Vancouver scribe that the Capilanos don't give arbiters any trouble at all and should advance to the first division. Since when has an umpire any right to publicly run down one particular ball club when he should be primarily interested in handling the game in a neutral capacity?

THEN again umpires should not be giving out interviews to the baseball writers. Their job is to umpire games and any opinions they might have should be kept to themselves. I am fully aware of the fact that league president Bob Abel rates Nenezich one of his better umpires. It is time the president started getting around to the ball parks in the circuit more often so he can personally watch his umpires work. Lot of the managers and league directors are getting just a bit fed up with the actions of certain men in blue and there's a real blow-off coming pretty soon unless Abel takes action.

LOOKS mighty like Manager Norbert will have to adopt the same tactics used by Leo Durocher of the Brooklyn Dodgers last season — take his pitching staff and work each member about two innings per game. Right now Norbert is faced with the prospect of getting a starting assignment out of three hurlers, Len Kasparovitch, Bill Woop and Ray Fortier with Joe Blankenship his ace reliefer. But the way the chuckers have been going Blankenship is just worn out from overwork. It's a marvel he hasn't been laid up long ago with a sore arm.

ALTHOUGH the A's continue to hold fourth place in the standings they are going to be sorely pressed to stay up there unless pitching help comes. It's about time the New York Yankees provided the team with a couple of good starting hurlers. The local directors should get on Yankee scout Joe Devine's neck good and hard when he hits town Tuesday. And let the Yanks send us sound pitchers, not fellows with crooked arms. We've seen enough of them to last for a couple of seasons.

James Bay Take Overtime Victory From Jokers 11-10

James Bay, cellar occupants of the lacrosse league, scored their first victory of the campaign last night, defeating Bill Andrews and his Jokers 11 to 10 in overtime.

Trailing 6 to 5 at the half and 8 to 6 at the three-quarter mark, the Bays uncorked a blistering fourth-quarter rally to knot the count at 9 to 9 and force the game into overtime.

Jenkins and Clarkson punched home the winning counters in the extra time, with but one replay from Temple of Jokers.

Bob Aitken making a return to the game for the winners, turned in a smart performance in the nets pushing aside 32 shots. Bill Andrews had 28 saves.

Al Denoni, speedy forward of the James Bay squad topped scorers of both teams with three goals.

Lacrosse lost a great supporter this week with the death of Vic Simpson. Long an ardent supporter of the game, he will be remembered for the many fine teams he organized.

A's Share 4th With Tacoma, Vancouver

Pitcher Hunk Anderson's high fly ball that just dropped over the centre field fence, in the eighth inning, for a home run, proved the margin of victory for the Salem Senators in a keenly-fought ball game with Victoria Athletics Friday night. Final score was 6 to 5. It marked the second straight win for Manager Jack Wilson's boys and was their ninth in 13 starts against the A's this season.

Upper division of the league bulged at the seams today as Salem moved into a tie with Spokane for second place and Athletics, Vancouver and Tacoma shared fourth. With Spokane idle at Bremerton Salem moved up to perch beside the Indians a half game back of Bremerton. Five and a half games out of the penthouse were Victoria, Tacoma and Vancouver.

A's lost a game last night which they might easily have won. The Victoria players were twice guilty of some "bush" base running and on another occasion got a ball break on a close call for the third out on the base paths. Bags were jammed at the time.

Victoria club failed to capitalize on the wildness of Anderson. The husky righthander gave up 10 bases on balls which put him into several tight spots but the A's just couldn't come through with base hits in the clutches Anderson struck out five.

Southpaw Bill Woop suffered his eighth defeat and in doing so was nicked for 13 hits. The lefthander ran into most of his trouble after two men had been retired, four of the Salem runs coming with two outs on the scoreboard. He added 10 strikeouts to his lengthy list and gave up only five bases on balls.

SCORE IN FIRST

After taking the first two batters to face him in the first inning Woop allowed Mel Nunes to double, followed by singles off the bats of Bob Moore and Dick Sinovic for a pair of runs. A's tied it up in the second.

With one away Jack Harshman drew a walk, followed by Jensen's single, with Harshman going all the way to third and Jensen pulling up at second on the attempted cut off at third. Johnny Cavalli line doubled into left centre to score both runners. That was the last hit the A's picked up until the seventh.

Victoria loaded the bases in the third on three walks. Jensen lined to Spaeter at shortstop, who dropped the ball. Recovering he made a snap throw to second and Harshman was called out with the Victoria players and Manager Ted Norbett protesting the decision. In the fourth, with runners on first and second and nobody out, Cavalli was picked off second and Woop missed on an attempted bunt. That took the pressure off Anderson.

Salem had taken a 5 to 2 lead in the top of the fourth on Joe Skeber's home run, Spaeter's double, Nunes' single and a walk to Beard.

A's got two runs back in the seventh on singles by Hooper, White and Harshman, combined with a walk to Mastro but Harshman got himself caught between first and second for the third out and the rally was cut short.

Woop's single pushed over another run in the eighth but Hooper struck out with runners on third and second.

In other games Tacoma beat Wenatchee 12 to 6, and Vancouver won from Yakima 11 to 10 in 11 innings.

Short scores follow:

	R.	H.	E.
Yakima	10	12	3
Vancouver (11 innings)	11	12	3

Batteries: Strait, Wallerstein (2), Simon (10) and Constintino; Snyder, Hedgecock (8), Robertson (11) and Brenner, Stumpf (8).

Wenatchee	6	9	3
Tacoma	12	12	2

Batteries: Cronin, Rose (5) and Pesut; Gilson and Kuper.

Vic Mastro Tops Batting Averages With Mark Of .422

Vic Mastro, Victoria Athletics' catcher, who went on a slugging spree during the early part of the week, is leading all hitters in the Western International League batting race according to figures released today by the Howe News Bureau. Mastro's .422 average is 19 points better than runner-up Earl Kuper's of Tacoma.

Johnny Hooper, switch hitting left fielder, and Babe Jensen, third baseman, made the largest individual gains for the A's, Hooper upping his mark from .343 to .358 and Jensen jumping from .307 to .316.

In addition, Jensen has made a determined bid to take the A's runs-batted-in title away from Jack Harshman and only trails by one run in that department. Gene Thompson, Yakima centre fielder, still leads the league in RBI's with 83, followed by Harshman and Jensen with 69 and 68, respectively.

Harshman leads in the runs scored column, having tallied 69 times. Bill White became the first hitter to go over the 100 hit mark, the rangy gardener now having 102 bingles to lead the league.

Averages of the Victoria regulars up to and including last night's game, follow:

	AB	R	H	RBI	Pct.
Mastro	149	38	62	44	.422
Hooper	139	44	57	36	.358

Noble King Wins Opening Handicap At Lansdowne Track

VANCOUVER (CP) — Lansdowne Park's 28-day race meet got under way Friday and a fair opening day crowd witnessed the first eight-race card presented on a track here, recently permitted by federal edict.

Sam Ross walked off with major honors in the curtain-raiser, his eight-year-old brown gelding Noble King coming from behind to steal the featured Inaugural Handicap from F. Acheson's entry of Meadowvale Boy and Machrina Boy, which took second and third, respectively.

First hefty mutual return went to fanciers of Laura's Son, an outsider which stood off the closing rush of the favored Saffnose. Laura's Son paid $42.00, worth to take the fourth by a $10.15 and $3.95.

Bobby Feller Answers Critics With 10th Win

Bobby Feller Friday became the first pitcher to win 10 games in the American League and appears to have regained his true form just in time for the all-star game, now less than two weeks away. Feller has won five of his last six starts, and has stilled some of the criticism of his long post-season exhibition trip last fall. He had plenty of stuff in last night's six-hit, 9 to 3 victory over Chicago.

Feller drove in three runs with a double in the Tribe's five-run second inning. He struck out three, raising his season total to 101, tops in both majors, singled in the eighth and scored the Indians' final run on Les Fleming's single.

Spud Chandler with a 7 to 1 victory halted the latest American League phenomenon, Carl Scheib of Philadelphia Athletics, 20-year-old rookie who had won three straight games, two of them shutouts.

As Mickey Haefner of Washington had shut out Boston Red Sox, 3 to 0, in the league's only day game, the Yanks' night win stretched their lead to 3½ games over the Sox.

Detroit thumped St. Louis 11 to 2 in a twilight game called in the eighth on account of darkness.

DODGERS MOVE AHEAD

Brooklyn widened its National League lead to 1½ games over Boston by winning 8 to 5 over the Braves. Skeeter Newsome's grand slam homer in the second inning sank New York Giants, giving Philadelphia 6 to 5 decision despite two round trippers by the Giants.

Chesnes Twirls 15th Victory For San Francisco Club

San Francisco Seals who have had the Coast League's only 30-game winners during the last two seasons seem to have been struck by lightning for the third straight year.

Freshman right-hander Bob Chesnes, $100,000 beauty from Salt Lake City, pitched his 15th victory last night as the Seals blasted Oakland, 18 to 3, and moved back into second place, two games behind the leading Angels of Los Angeles. The Angels walloped Sacramento, 10 to 2.

Chesnes reached the halfway mark in his goal of 30 wins in the first 87 games of the 186-game schedule. His effort last night was a five-hitter.

Victoria Cricketers Play In Vancouver Dominion Day

An all-star cricket team, boasting one of the strongest sides ever to represent the city, has been chosen for the annual intercity match at Vancouver, July 1.

The game will also mark the dedication of a memorial to Vancouver crickets who gave their lives in World War II. The unveiling ceremony will take place at 2 during the intercity match.

Jimmy Oakman, captain of the local eleven, will have six top-notch bowlers on his squad. Jack Payne, Reg Wenman, George Hepworth, Jack Sparks, Ted Oakman and Ted Parkins will all be available for duty.

Batting seems to be one of the team's strong points, Reg Wenman, Bob Colqhuoun and Parkins making up the nucleus of a powerful attack.

Fred Brewin, Allan Griffin, Lou Heppenstall and George Payne are others chosen for the holiday match. Fred Currie will umpire. The team will leave here Monday night for the all-day match.

INVITATION GOLF

An invitation day at Uplands Golf Club this week a hidden hole competition was held. Mrs. M. Gillespie with a net 25, took visitors' honors. Mrs. M. Todd-Finney and Mrs. J. C. I. Edwards tied for second. Mrs. W. Erickson, with a net 23, captured the Uplands ladies' prize, with Mrs. W. S. Smith runner-up.

Esquimalt Residents Sleep While 'Cat Burglar' Works

The pussy-footed burglar returned to Esquimalt last night after weeks absence from that municipality. He engineered a robbery in the rooms where people slept and another case was put on Chief of Police Gilbert Stancombe's "attempted" list.

According to the chief, he succeeded in entering the house of Maj. E. L. Moilliet, 989 Admirals Road, and robbed Anthony Moilliett, the son, of a wallet containing $30 and valuable personal papers. Also secured by the burglar was a wrist watch and Ronson lighter and a pen and pencil set. The bedrooms were ransacked in the hunt for articles of value.

The Moilliett household was asleep while the burglar worked and today Anthony, who has just been discharged from the navy after a long term of service, issued an appeal to the person responsible to return his wallet, pointing out there are discharge papers and other personal documents in it that are not replaceable.

Chief Stancombe believes entry was made through on unlocked door.

The other objective in the night prowling of the "cat burglar" was the home of W. Carroll, 930 Admirals Road. A ladder had been placed against the side of the house. The house was not entered, however.

As in all other cases reported by the police the burglar has operated between the hours of darkness Friday night and early Saturday morning.

He is concentrating his activity so far on the outskirts of Greater Victoria. Chief Stancombe and Chief Reston both are of the belief the burglar comes in and leaves by water.

Closing Exercises For Esquimalt Elementary School

The reeve's prize of a gold watch for the best all-round pupil in the Grade 8 graduating class was presented to Doreen Robbie by Reeve A. I. Thomas at the closing exercises of the Esquimalt Elementary School Friday.

Parents and friends of the 650 students at the school attended the exercises.

Doreen Robbie was also presented with the Esquimalt Women's Institute medal to the first ranking pupil in the Grade 8 graduating class by Mrs. M. McDuff, president. Lorraine Whittla won the Mary Croft Esquimalt Chapter, I.O.D.E., prize for the second ranking pupil in the Grade 8 graduating class. It was presented by Mrs. Warren Smith, regent.

J. McDonald, president of the Esquimalt branch of the Canadian Legion, presented prizes to winners of the recent Legion poster competition.

J. Bryant, president of the Esquimalt P.-T.A, announced the summer playground program for children of the municipality, sponsored by the P.-T.A.

School chevrons were presented to pupil winners and announcement was made of the pupils graduating to high school. Names of successful candidates for St. John Ambulance first aid certificates were read.

Sylvia Bavin, Catherine Dixon, Roy Byfield and Richard Thornton entertained with musical numbers.

H. W. Creelman, principal, presided.

'Goodbye' To Teacher For Summer Months

Grade one, two and three youngsters at Kingston Street School waved goodbye to teachers, Mrs. Muriel Douglas, left, and Mrs. E. McDonnel, principal, as schools of Greater Victoria closed Friday for the long summer vacation. The summer months will be spent by the children in healthy play at beaches and playgrounds, while school officials will arrange redecorating and renovating the school buildings to make them ready again for classes in September.

Citizenship To Be Recognized At Sunday Ceremony

Plans are now completed for the first annual "I am a Canadian Day" ceremony which will be held Sunday afternoon at 2.15 in Beacon Hill Park.

The purpose of the ceremony is to accord proper public recognition to the newly-acquired Canadian Citizenship.

Mayor Percy E. George will open the program and will read messages from Hon. Paul Martin, who sponsored the idea of such ceremonies, and R. W. Mayhew, M.P., for Victoria.

The main address of the afternoon will be given by Hon. E. T. Kenney, minister of lands and forests.

Participating in the program will be residents of Greater Victoria, who have, or will, become 21 years of age during 1947. These young citizens will repeat the following pledge:

"I believe in Canada, I love her as my home. I honor her institutions. I rejoice in the abundance of her resources. I glory in the record of her achievements. I have unbounded confidence in the ability of her people to excel in whatsoever they undertake. I cherish exalted ideals of her destiny as a leader among the world nations. To her I pledge my loyalty. To the promotion of her best interests I pledge my support."

The hymn, "O God Our Help In Ages past," and the anthem, The Maple Leaf Forever, will be sung.

The ceremony has been arranged by the Citizenship Committee of the Local Council of Women. Sponsors are the Men's Canadian Club, the Women's Canadian Club, the Canadian Daughters' League and the Sons of Canada.

C. A. Billett Faces Theft Charge Here

Clarence Arthur Billett, who on Wednesday was committed for trial in Nanaimo court on a charge of being in possession of a car allegedly stolen, appeared before Magistrate Henry C. Hall this morning on a charge of theft of a camera, over the value of $25, the property of Mrs. W. C. Bailey, on or about April 26.

He elected trial before the magistrate and entered a plea of not guilty. He was remanded to Monday to fixe a date for the hearing.

Theft Thwarted By Inside Window Bars

Because inside window bars barred the way, an attempt to enter Kersey's nut factory at 1626 Store Street, Friday night was foiled.

Constable Paul Brand, on his beat at 8.40, telephoned to the station about the incident. A window on the north side of the building had been pried open—but further entry was prevented by the bars on the inside.

2 Men Charged With Obstructing Police At Scene Of Fight

Two men appeared in city police court today and were charged with assaulting or obstructing Victoria policemen in the execution of their duty in the early hours of this morning at the home of Andrew Andersen, 537 Rithet Street, when the police were called in as a result of a fight being reported.

Andrew Andersen entered a plea of guilty to a charge of obstructing a police officer, Constable Ivor Grommers, and was remanded to Monday for sentence.

Magistrate Hall warned accused as to the gravity of the charge, noting that a conviction carried up to a maximum of two years' penal servitude, and asked him if he wished a defence counsel to represent him. If so, he would give him time to arrange this. Andersen, however, said he was pleading guilty.

James Ryan, a sailor, had two charges read against him for offences at the same scene, assaulting Constable Norman Galbraith and obstructing Constable Harry Hoshal. He reserved trial election and plea in both cases and was remanded to Wednesday morning. He was released in the custody of his superior officer.

In the Andersen case, Constable Grommers said he responded to a telephone call from Mrs. Andersen to attend at 537 Rithet Street at 1.50 this morning because there was a fight in progress.

The policeman said that when he arrived in the company of other officers an argument was going on between four persons on the front steps of the home. Accused was hollering and "he swung around and hit me on the left side of the face and was arrested," said the constable.

Constable Grommers told the court there was a considerable amount of blood in evidence and that a man suffering from a knife wound in the leg was taken to hospital.

Magistrate Hall said he would remand for sentence to Monday in order to hear anything the accused wished to say.

C.P.A.L. Seeks New Air Route On Coast

EDMONTON (CP)—Grant McConachie of Montreal, president of Canadian Pacific Air Lines in an interview here today said application for a new air service to the Kootenay Lakes and Okanagan Valley, between Vancouver and Calgary, will be made July 8 by C.P.A.L.

Mr. McConachie is en route east following an inspection trip over the newly-opened air route connecting Vancouver and Prince Rupert.

He said the service applied for would bring daily scheduled flights to Penticton, Trail, Nelson, Cranbrook, Kimberley and Calgary, with the western terminus at Vancolver.

U.S. Lumber Tariff Little Effect On Local Business

The re-imposition of tariffs and and duties on Canadian lumber entering the United States, which may take place Tuesday, will make little difference to Victoria mills and lumber concerns, it was learned today.

The American Embassy in Ottawa has reported the U.S. Emergency Housing Act, under which Canadian and other lumber had entered the country duty-free will expire June 30. The Senate and House of Representatives have passed the Housing and Rent Act of 1947, which would mean that both tariffs and duties on lumber would be returned. It awaits President Truman's signature.

Local mill officials report that during the past few months there has been little or no lumber moving from Vancouver Island to the United States. "Certainly we have been shipping very small quantities of lumber to the United States," one official commented. "The prices there are not attractive at the present time, and the local market can take all and more than we can produce."

He said that he had heard only of the occasional carload of speciay types of lumber being shipped across the border for some months.

Lumbermen in Vancouver and on the mainland expressed the opinion that the tariffs might have an effect later on when B.C. was again seeking customers, although they agreed with the Victoria men that it would make little difference at the present time.

Mark Anniversary Of Chinese School

A three-day celebration, marking the 40th anniversary of the Chinese Public School on Fisgard Street, got under way this afternoon at 2 with a carnival in the school grounds.

The Victoria Boys' Band took part in the program, as well as pupils of the Florence Clough dancing academy. Students of the school staged a fashion show.

Tonight at 7, Mayor Percy George will officially open the school's new tennis courts. Dr. G. P. Yu, secretary-general of China's Yuan Legislature, and Li Chao, Chinese consul general in Vancouver, are expected to attend.

A grand reunion of all former graduates is scheduled for Sunday. The graduates will gather at a general session in the afternoon, followed by a huge banquet. Another grand rally will be held Sunday night.

Monday evening a dance will be held at the Club Sirocco to culminate the three-day festivities.

The school was founded in 1899, but the present school was not built until 1907. The money for the construction of the building was subscribed by local Chinese residents.

Over 2,000 persons have graduated from the school. The present staff is five and the students number about 200.

The students all attend public schools in the day and the Chinese school in the evenings.

Acting upon a Department of Labor decision that a projected shutdown of building operations by Victoria employers is in compliance with the provisions of the Annual Holidays Act, construction wiremen, members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, have decided to take their annual holidays commencing July 2.

Town Topics

13 Field Ambulance R.C.A.M.C., R.F., will not parade on Tuesday. All ranks are warned for muster parade on July 8

The Band of the Musicians' Union will play at Beacon Hill Park tomorrow, when the first annual "I Am a Canadian" Day will be held, commencing at 2.15.

Oak Bay playground registration will take place Monday at Willows Beach Park from 10 to 12 in the morning, and at Windsor Park from 1.30 to 3.30 in the afternoon.

Owing to the July 1 holiday, the general meeting of the Victoria Aged Pensioners' Association has been postponed to July 8 at 2 in the lower hall of First Baptist Church.

The Victoria and District Chrysantheum Society will meet at the City Hall next Thursday at 8. Len Holyoak and Dave Nicol will speak on "Methods of Feeding Plants."

Canadian Scottish Regiment will parade at the Armories at 7.30 Monday evening for rehearsal for A.O.C.'s inspection. Dress: Battle dress, blouse, kilt. Transport will leave the Armories at 10 tomorrow morning for the battalion shoot at Heals Range.

A little more than half the preschool and pre-primary children who will be starting school in September in Victoria and Esquimalt, have had their medical and dental examinations completed, Dr. J. H. Preston, schools medical health officer, reported today. No more examinations will be given during the summer months until school opens Sept. 2, he said.

Whitney (Joe) Firkins, a navy veteran, received the Distinguished Service Medal at a special ceremony, honoring the city's war heroes at Victoria Park in the city of Trail. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Firkins, 1320 Rudlin Street, Victoria. His wife, the former Edna Horne, is the daughter of Lt.-Cmdr. J. G. B. Horne, O.B.E., retired, and Mrs. Horne of 2928 Albina Street, Victoria.

City police were called to the English Bakery, 742 Fort Street, at 4.50 yesterday afternoon following a report that a short stocky man had attempted to steal some silverware and cutlery. Constables Norman Bath and Ivor Grommers learned that this man had attempted to steal the articles while the bakers were busy at the back. He was last seen going in the Robert House, which police searched without results.

The Victoria and District Zone Council of the Canadian Legion has appointed Mrs. G. Moore of the ex-service women's branch, Peter Barr of the public service unit, and C. V. Gilbert, representing the Esquimalt branch, as a committee to arrange for a lecture on Russia and Greece by Maj. H. G. Scott, author and lecturer. He is a former British intelligence officer with experience in European countries. It is expected he can be secured for an address in September.

The supervised playground council of the Esquimalt P.-T.A. has arranged for swimming lessons at Crystal Garden, and tennis lessons by Carl Brand for the 'teen agers of Esquimalt. Younger children will be fully occupied with a variety of games and entertainment on the playgrounds. Young children may be registered by parents at Bullens Park on the morning of July 7. Donations by parents toward the expenses of the program will be welcome, the playground council said.

Second Blue Baby Operation Success

A second "blue baby" operation has been successfully performed at Royal Jubilee Hospital by Dr. J. D. Stenstrom, on a 21-months-old boy, Dr. Morley Beckett, hospital superintendent, announced.

The operation was performed Wednesday and already the baby, "Larry," who was sent to the hospital by Dr. Glenn Simpson from the Queen Alexandra Solarium, shows marked improvement.

Dr. Beckett said he believed that other "blue baby" operations will be performed at the hospital as the Solarium is now accepting patients whose condition will yield successfully to operation.

The little boy, who before the operation, found breathing so difficult that he could not sleep on his stomach, is now using that as a preferred position, Dr. Beckett reported. He has never learned to walk because the exertion was too much, but high hopes are held that within the next few months he will be taking his first steps.

The first "blue baby" operation performed by Dr. Stenstrom on 10-year-old Carol Bell was also successful and the little girl is progressing satisfactorily.

Quota Club Wants Equal Status For Men And Women In Industry

Meeting in final session of their four-day Friendly Borders Convention at the Sirocco this morning, 500 delegates and members of the Quota Club International Inc. endorsed such legislation as may be introduced or may now be pending, which in the opinion of Quota Clubs, is best suited to the purpose of preventing discrimination in wages and employment because of sex.

Endorsement was also given to a resolution authorizing the board of directors of Quota Club International, to endorse qualified women for non-political and policy making positions to national and international conferences being arranged and held by United Nations.

Through local clubs it was decided to take an "organized protest to the sponsors of radio programs and the producers of films against unclean broadcasting and picture making, which contribute to the delinquency of youth. The convention also urges "a sincere effort be made to produce programs on the air and the screen that will educate and instruct the youth of our country."

A resolution was also passed urging the need of study by individual clubs of the underlying causes of juvenile delinquency to the end that there may be conservation of the youth of the country.

Saanich Vote On School By-law Slow

Voting on the $1,956,812 school building by-law in Saanich today was slow during the morning hours, John Tribe, returning officer, reported.

He said that a check of the 10 polling stations in the five wards voting revealed that the voting was much slower than it had been June 19 when the municipality voted on the transportation by-law.

However, he anticipated that more ratepayers would turn out during the late afternoon and early evening hours before the polls close at 8.

The votes on the school building by-law will be counted in all four municipalities and View Royal rural district as soon as the Saanich polls close. Victoria voted June 19, Oak Bay, Esquimalt and View Royal voted June 26.

'Creeping Driver' Menace, Says Chief

Chief of Police J. A. McLellan warns motorists that driving "too slow for conditions" can result in an accident, just as surely as "speed too fast for conditions."

"I refer to the motorist who makes a practice of driving through the city at a 'creeping' pace, usually driving in the middle of the road, and apparently oblivious to the string of cars behind him. Such a driver, by making it difficult for others to pass him, invites traffic behind to pass at places where passing is dangerous.

"If, for any reason, a motorist finds that he is unable to keep up with the normal flow of traffic, he should pull well over to the right-hand side of the road, and remain there, thus giving others the opportunity to pass him safely.

New Ford Pension Plan For Workers

DETROIT (AP) — The Ford Motor Company, which pioneered the check-off system of dues collection in the automobile industry, has become the first car manufacturer to agree to an old age retirement plan for its production workers.

Nearing the end of almost two months of contract negotiations, the Ford management and the United Automobile Workers' Union (C.I.O.), announced Friday that agreement had been reached for the setting up of a pension program and a straight seven-cents-an-hour wage increase for some 110,000 production workers.

Richard T. Leonard, U.A.W.-C.I.O. Ford director, said the pension plan will cost the Ford Company $200,000,000 the first year and $15,000,000 for each year thereafter. The first-year estimate covers the cost of the company's assumed liability for past service of U.A.W. workers on the payroll.

The new wage and pension agreement undoubtedly forestalls a threatened strike among the Ford production workers. A 30-day strike notice filed by the U.A.W.-C.I.O. expired last Tuesday, but no action was taken as negotiations then under way appeared near satisfactory conclusion.

Yet to be settled as a four-weeks-old strike of 3,800 Ford foremen, members of the Independent Foremen's Association of America. The dispute involves union recognition.

Strikers At Bombay Damage Machinery

BOMBAY (Reuter)—Railway workers on strike here today damaged machinery, broke windows and at one workshop forced the clerical workers to leave their jobs.

There was some disorganization in local services this morning because of the strike which began Friday as a protest against proposed new wage scales, but by the afternoon services on one service were partially restored. Armed police again were posted on several points on the lines.

Our Heritage From Ancient Israel

Scripture: Psalm 119:105, Isaiah 2:2-4; Micah 6:1-8.

BY WILLIAM E. GILROY, D.D.

One great heritage from the story of ancient Israel is the lessons its story contains regarding the things that make for the welfare, or the downfall, of nations and peoples.

In the history of the Jewish people from the time of their return from the bondage in Egypt to the establishment and downfall of their kingdom in Palestine, we can see the laws and forces that wreck mighty nations.

It is as true as it ever was that "righteousness exalteth a nation," and the dictum of Scripture applies to nations, as it does to individuals, "Be sure your sin will find you out."

But our heritage from ancient Israel is very much more than is found in example and warning. Out of the life of Israel, despite wars, peril, suffering, waste, and destruction, has come the richest literature that the world has known — the Scriptures upon which Our Lord was nourished, and which, He said, He had come to fulfill.

It is the spiritual miracle of history that out of times of ruthless war should have come the magnificent dreams of peace, recorded in such passages as Isaiah 2 and 35. The times were crude and full of danger. The perverse and evil-minded set up altars of idolatry. There were false prophets as well as the patient, suffering, irrepressible prophets of the Lord.

Some kings themselves were false leaders, doing evil in the sight of the Lord But there were gentle souls, being led through green pastures and beside still waters, singing the songs of hope and faith.

In days of darkness there were not wanting those who found the word of God a light unto their path (Psalms 119:105). And in evil days there were courageous rebukers of iniquity, and prophets, like Micah, who defined in clear, simple terms the eternal realities of true religion, the substance of what God requires of man, and of what man needs for happy, prosperous life among his fellows (Micah 6:1-8).

And in these days of the 20th century, when millions have been destroyed and other millions have been suffering from ruthlessness, let us not forget that it is to Jews that we owe that heritage. What return is the world making to them for all they have given to the world?

COLD SOIL PRESERVED MAMMOTH FLESH THROUGH CENTURIES

Years ago, a scientist told me about a banquet which had been held in Russia, at which "mammoth steak" was served. He said that he had not eaten any of the meat, but that others had taken a bite or two and seemed to suffer no ill effects.

The "mammoth steak" was cut from the body of a mammoth which had been found frozen in Siberia. If I had been offered a piece, I think I should have said that I would rather eat something a little more modern!

Frozen mammoths have been found in Siberia at different times. In each case the beast had been dead for thousands of years, but some of the flesh had been preserved by the intense coldness of the soil. There are parts of Siberia in which summer is almost like winter, with only a few weeks of mild weather.

SAW STRANGE ANIMAL

In the year 1900 a native of Siberia saw the head of a strange animal exposed above the ground. A huge tusk stood out from the head.

The discovery was reported, and months later O. F. Hertz, a scientist engaged in work at St. Petersburg, came to the spot. With the help of several others, he dug the beast from the frozen ground.

It was a mammoth, a kind of hairy elephant which used to roam about long ago. Because of the ice and frozen soil around it, much of the flesh and almost all of the hair had been kept from decay.

In his diary, Hertz wrote:

"The flesh under the shoulder looks as fresh as well-frozen beef. The dogs ate whatever mammoth meat was thrown to them.

"I collected bits of frozen blood. When melted, these bits turned into dark red spots."

HAIR VARIED IN COLOR

The hair on the mammoth varied in color from yellowish-brown to dark brown. In the region of the chest the hair was 12 inches long. The animal is believed to have died as the result of a fall from a cliff. Its left fore-leg had been broken.

In a single year, 1,635 mammoth tusks from Siberia reached the London ivory market. The average weight of the tusks was about 150 pounds, and much of the ivory was in excellent condition.

Bones and tusks of mammoths have been dug up in Alaska as well as in Siberia. One Alaskan tusk was 12 feet and 10 inches long!

Mammoths roamed over many parts of Canada and the United States, and our continent was the home of another kind of hairy elephant— the mastodon.

MASTODONS IN OHIO VALLEY

Although mastodon bones have been found in most sections of North America, the best skeletons have been obtained in the valleys of Ohio and the Hudson Rivers. In most cases the bones have been saved because the mastodons died when they sank into peat bogs or into soft mud at the bottom of ponds. Moist ground kept the bones from waisting away.

Mastodons had great ivory tusks, something like those of elephants and mammoths. Mastodos tunks were slightly curved, but they were less curved than the tusks of mammoths.

The DOCTOR Says:

BICYCLE CARELESSNESS CAUSES ACCIDENTS

By WILLIAM A. O'BRIEN, M.D.

Safe use of bicycles and motorcycles as well as automobiles should be stressed in driving courses for high school students. Many parents who wouldn't think of letting their children drive the family car, pay no attention to the way they ride their bicycles.

Bicycle accidents increase in vacation time. Most accidents are the result of carelessness and faulty mental attitude of riders. Average automobile driver makes a special effort to avoid collisions with bicyclists, but to ride a bicycle safely, one should exercise the same precautions that he would in driving an automobile.

There is a tendency for many bicycle riders to disregard traffic laws. Boys and girls ride their bicycles through stop signs in exactly the same way that many of them walk against red lights. It is advisable to keep near the curb.

A bicycle should not be ridden at night without lights or reflectors. On making a turn or slowing down, the rider should give the proper signal.

Operators of automobiles, motorcycles, and bicycles as well as pedestrians should practice the golden rule. Most of our difficulties could be avoided if everyone developed a sense of fair play and practiced good sportsmanship. When in doubt, give the other fellow the right of way.

The large proportion of accidents occur because of faulty mental attitudes. High accident rate of many young persons who ride bicycles and drive automobiles can be traced to the way they have been reared. If they have never been given responsibility, they will take unwise chances.

The New HILLMAN

BIG in everything but running costs

In power beneath the bonnet, in tireless cruising speed and ample head and leg room, the NEW HILLMAN has the unmistakable feel of a big car. But its world success is based upon more than this . . . for in gas consumption and upkeep costs the NEW HILLMAN is truly the world's most economical car.

ONE VICTORIA OWNER WRITES

My Hillman, purchased in 1940, is the sixth car I have owned, and it has shown to me how reliable motoring can be. This car has now been in everyday use for six years and over this whole period I have never had one involuntary stop on the road, a remarkable achievement considering my travels take me to the north of Vancouver Island and the mainland.

The time will come when I shall be buying a new car, and it is without hesitation that I shall again choose HILLMAN.
Signed, W. T.

Gallup Poll

7 In 10 Have 'Pet Peeve' Against Radio Programs

By CANADIAN INSTITUTE OF PUBLIC OPINION

Don't rush to a psychiatrist when you feel that urge to criticise your radio set. Seven in ten men, and almost as many women, get the same urge sometimes.

Because Canadian airwaves, and ways, have been the subject of unprecedented discussion in recent months, due largely to sessions of the special Parliamentary Committee on radio broadcasting, the institute has put the issue to the adult population itself, through a series of questions asked, via opinion sampling methods, of voting age Canadians across Canada.

First question was designed to drag in the maximum amount of grievances: "Do You Ever Feel Like Criticizing When You Listen to the Radio?"

Sharpest differences in viewpoint were found when people of various formal educational levels were looked at separately, so in the following table, the viewpoint of these groups is shown separately, as well as the national figure:

	YES	NO
Public School	58%	42%
Some or all High School	78	22
Some or all College	81	19
National	69	31

An indication that Canadian and United States public share the urge to criticise radio, in spite of different administrative systems, is found in the fact that, in a national survey conducted in United States for Dr. Paul Lazerfeld of Columbia University, in which exactly the same question was put to American adults, 65 per cent admitted they felt like criticising radio.

MEN MORE CRITICAL

In Canada, men are slightly more critical than women; Progressive Conservative and C.C.F. supporters slightly more critical than Liberals.

The first question in the survey was in reality designed to pave the way for the next question: "What Do You Most Often Feel Like Criticising?"—asked, of course, only of those who gave a "yes" answer to the first question.

Here are the public's chief grievances, as cited by the public itself: Advertising 38%, soap operas and serials 10%, jazz, boogie woogie, etc. 8%, propaganda 5%, not enough serious programs 5%, program type in general 4%, personnel of radio 4%, too many serious programs 2%, miscellaneous 7%, no opinion 2%. Total 85%.

Some people gave more than one grievance, which is why the percentages above add up to more than the 69% which said they felt like criticising.

Because advertising was the field in which the largest group of answers fell, these people were asked one more question:

"What Do You Most Dislike About Radio Advertising?"

Number and repetition of advertisements came at the top of the list, followed, in order, by "length of commercials"; singing commercials and musical jingles; exaggeration of commercials; "too many soap advertisements"; method of introducing commercials and miscellaneous answers.

Unrra Contracts Total $13,000,000 In B.C. This Year

Unrra contracts for fish and fish products worth more than $9,500,000 already received by B.C. brings to a total of nearly $13,000,000 the value of contracts placed in the province this year on behalf of Unrra, Trade and Industry Minister L. H. Eyres said today in commenting on press reports that B.C. would receive a large share of fish allocations in a new relief program.

The new allocations are part of what has been described as a "post Unrra" program. Recent announcement from Ottawa indicated that no more Unrra contracts as such would be placed after the end of July.

Mr. Eyres said the B.C. Trade Commissioner had extended close co-operation to the Canadian Commercial Corporation in the whole matter of Unrra procurement in B.C. In addition to the item for fish and fish products, contracts were placed for lumber, including ties, fertilizers, fishing vessels, livestock, soap, water distillation apparatus and sisal rope.

No Rush Here On New Birth Certificates

Contrary to expectations, there has been no rush of applications for the new plastic birth certificates now being issued in this province, according to officials of of the B.C. Bureau of Statistics.

Under the present system the bureau sends out the plastic birth certificates to the registrants unless specifically asked to do otherwise. Most people are accepting the new certificates, but some have preferred the older one which contains more information on it, such as the names of the parents.

Presentation of a traveling bag on behalf of the City Hall employees was made to J. A. Birney, who is retiring from the position of plumbing inspector, by Mayor Percy George Friday.

Heavy Logan Crop Expected Next Week

Officials of the Dominion Provincial Emergency Farm Labor Office expect the loganberry season to reach its peak sometime next week, and are being kept busy finding sufficient pickers to meet the demands of the growers.

Many persons have registered as pickers but have no telephones by which they can be contacted. These persons are asked to contact the Victoria office immediately.

C. M. Smith, area supervisor of the Farm Labor Office, reports the logan season is 10 days earlier this year than last, and that a record yield is expected because of increased acreage.

He said that 35 per cent more pickers have gone out from the Victoria and Sidney offices this year than for the same period last year.

SAANICH RECREATION

Saanich Recreation Council provides supervisors but does not have sufficient funds to equip playgrounds, a delegation from Rudd Park Playground was informed by J. Casey, president. Equipment is mostly provided by local funds and donations. A. Murphy was welcomed as chief supervisor, and also elected program convener for playgrounds. A. Worthington and A. Murphy will arrange for registration pamphlets for playgrounds.

HER FIRST GREAT DISAPPOINTMENT

ALL THIS WEEK, this little girl of four, felt grown up and super-ior. Because to school, she'd bin invi-TED, by her older playmate, winni-FRED. To accompany her, on the very last day, to a school near Monterey. Now this 4 year old was surely thrilled, & so in behavior she was drilled, by her Mummy and her Dad, in HOW to behave & NOT be bad. To her doily she talked all week, to U or me, it would B Greek. But to this child in such suspense, it was VERY REAL, and NOT pretence. "Do U know, that to-morrow morn," sed this excited & first-born, "I'm all grown up & going to school, really & truly, NOT April-fool." The doily nodded with her head, her big blue eyes stared straight ahead. "So I gotta go early to bed, 'cause calling for me, is Winnifred. Mummy's fixed these curlers in my hair, & I'm gonna put on my NEW under-wear, And I put this polish on my toe, it's a special event & does not show."

WE'D LIKE TO SHOW you these new bed-davenо suites that arrived today . . . the same as moved outa here so fast, the last shipment . . . featuring the dual spring construction.

SO . . . earlier to bed this 4 yr. old, her excitement almost uncontrolled. So her daddy to calm these assaults, lullabyed her favorite, Missouri waltz. Till finally, out the room he tip-toed, a sigh of relief to his wife did unload. At dawn next morning, this darling dotter, arose much earlier than she otter. Took out the curlers all by herself, laid them neatly on her dresser-shelf. Then to the bathroom & washed each hand, then back to her room, a fairy-land. To find her pants & NOT to hunt, but momentarily confused, back or front? "THIS IS THE DAY," doily raised her eyes, with the long brown lashes, in the sunrise. "Don't I look pretty in this dress," the doily nodded sed, "Oh Yes."

& SO WILL YOU, when U see these beautiful new bedroom sets. They are all-walnut, beautiful matched grain veneers, and a big round plate mirror . . . the price is crazy.

THEN into the room, with the great big bed, jumped these girls on Mummy's bedspread. Daddy grunted, sed "WHAT THE . . . ? & muttered some more,—dokgerell. So they HAD to get up, 'twas about 6, and Mummy did the breakfast fix. Daddy came in, trying not to frown, his hair a-rumpled, his braces down. "W-H-A-T an hour to get outa bed, we MUST be crazy in the head." "Now U scbot, dear, & have a shave," sed his little galley-slave. Somehow it got to 8 half-past 8, daddy sed, "Gosh . . . I'll B late." Then came a knock on the back door, & Winnie came in, & stood on the floor. The 4 yr. old jumped off her chair, "hello Winnifred, do U LIKE my Hair? Then she ran & got on her coat, Mummy clucked, while Daddy dote.

SELL-ON-SIGHT . . . these bedroom suites, cause they "have everything."

FINALLY . . . the GREAT moment did arrive, just a moment now & daddy would drive. When suddenly, up spoke Winnifred, and looked at the doily with the wooly-head. "YOU CAN'T GO WITH ME TODAY, that's what my teacher sed, yesterday. I guess they don't have seats enuff," she sed it straight, right off the cuff. When this statement by all was heard, no one sed. A SINGLE WORD. Then Winnie left, shouted good-bye, 'Til C U later," her voice on high. Still, 'twas quiet, no one spoke, the daddy thot, that HE WOULD CHOKE. "But of my dotter, I was mighty proud, she didn't bawle or cry out loud. But took off her coat & sed to her doll, "now U SIT UP STRAIGHT or U will fall." Then in that room of sudden gloom, smiled crookedly . . . & LEFT THE ROOM.

Snead Retains Open Golf Lead With Subpar 67

CHICAGO (AP) — Sammy Snead of Hot Springs, Va., who skipped defence of his British open title to concentrate on domestic cash-collecting, zoomed along at 12-under-par with 130 for a three-stroke halfway mark lead in the $15,900 Chicago victory national golf tourney Friday.

Snead whammed a four-under-par 67 in the second 18-hole flight of the 72-hole open at Westward Ho golf course after his opening 63 Thursday, eight-under-standard.

Sammy picked up a stroke over second-place George Payton, 24-year-old pro from Hampton, Va., who fired 68 for a 36-hole count of 133 after 65.

McDiarmid, Rochon Gain Tennis Final

MONTREAL (CP) — Don McDiarmid of Ottawa and Henri Rochon of Montreal forced their way into the final for the Quebec provincial tennis championship Friday, the former taking the measure of Brendan Macken of Montreal and the latter toppling Brendan's brother Jim.

Rochon won his match in fairly handy fashion, 6-0, 1-6, 6-2, 6-2, while McDiarmid, considered the underdog against the spectacular Brendan Macken, pulled through in a gruelling five-set piece, 6-2, 6-3, 4-6, 5-7, 6-1.

Billy Fox Knocks Out Artie Levine

NEW YORK (AP)—Billy Fox, the Philadelphia flattener who puts fellows to sleep better than a can of ether, chalked up his 46th knockout in 47 professional starts Friday night by flattening Artie Levine of Brooklyn in three rounds in Madison Square Garden. Fox scaled 175, Levine 164.

In a slugging brawl while it lasted, Levine came back fighting twice from what appeared to be certain "curtains" to stagger Fox at the end of the second round. Then, after momentarily taking the play at the start of the third round, he ran into Billy's high explosives and was stopped at 1 minute 32 seconds of the session.

Jimmy Gilbert Wins His Bronze Button

The report from Saanich Inlet today on Friday's fishing indicated there is a fairly good supply of big salmon in the inlet at the present time—good news for the angling clan for tomorrow's opening derby.

While quite a number of big fish were tied into yesterday, there were several stories about the "big one that got away." Among those who succeeded in landing heavy specimens was young Jimmy Gilbert, junior Solarium champion last year, who fought a 26½-pounder to a successful conclusion to qualify for his bronze button. He also landed a 10-pounder.

$4,739 Cheque For Next May Festival

A cheque for $4,739.28 was turned over to M. F. Hunter, chairman of the Greater Victoria May 24 Celebrations Association, by the Victoria Lions Club Friday at the Empress Hotel.

The money represents the surplus of the May Queen contest, and will be used as the nucleus of next year's celebrations.

In accepting the cheque, Mr. Hunter thanked the members of the club for their support in making the celebrations the success that it was.

He told the members that it was his desire to see the formation of a permanent Greater Victoria Celebrations Association which would arrange events and festivities throughout the year. "Victorians are celebrations minded," he said.

Mr. Hunter said May 24 would always be the "big time" in this city and that all should be done to make it a bigger and better celebration each year. "We must work so that May 24 will be synonymous with the City of Victoria."

A letter was read to the meeting from the Victoria Arm and Portage Inlet Improvement Association, asking the support of the club in seeking action to cut a canal from the inlet to Thetis Cove.

The Lions Club passed a resolution endorsing the action of this association and copies will be sent to R. W. Mayhew, M.P., and Maj.-Gen. G. R. Pearkes, V.C., M.P.

Ask Permission To Prosecute

VANCOUVER (CP) — Defeat of the International Woodworkers of America (C.I.O.-C.C.L.) in a certification election at Sweeney Cooperage Ltd. in Victoria will be protested, Harold Pritchett, I.W.A. district president, announced here Friday night.

Permission will be sought of the B.C. Labor Department to prosecute the company for "refusal to bargain in good faith," Mr. Pritchett stated. The firm was covered by the lumber industry master contract, he said, and the I.W.A. was certified for the plant in 1946.

Of 66 eligible ballots, 35 votes had been given to the A.F.L. and 26 to the I.W.A., with no spoiled ballots, Mr. Pritchett said.

The protest against the election has not yet reached the provincial department of labor, Barrie Gault stated today. The election was held Friday at the firm under the direction of Norman Lyons, registrar for the department of labor, he said, and under normal circumstances certification would be issued to the union winning the election. The question is under consideration now, and when or if the protest is filed, it will also be considered before certification is issued to the A.F. of L. union.

Air Traffic Manager

W. M. Garven has been appointed traffic manager of the Victoria office of Trans-Canada Airlines, R. L. Williams, manager of T.C.A. office here, announced today. Mr. Garven was associated with the steamship passenger department of the C.P.R. in Vancouver for 14 years.

Rainbow Sea Cadets' ship's company will parade next Friday at 7.30 at headquarters, R.C.S.C. Rainbow.

Fleet Of 15 Starters From Here In P.I.Y.A. Swiftsure Ocean Race

Setting out under wind conditions declared by experts to be favorable for good sailing, 15 auxiliary sailers were starters in today's race to Swiftsure Bank and return, setting the scene for the opening of the P.I.Y.A. regatta at Seattle next week.

This ocean preliminary, sponsored by the P.I.Y.A., is expected to prove one of the most colorful sailing events of the big regatta which is drawing yachtsmen from all points of the Pacific coast.

The 15 yachts jockeyed for position off Brotchie Ledge, outside Victoria's breakwater, to get away at 12.30 for the entrance of the Straits of Juan de Fuca.

Much interest was centred in the only Victoria entry, the yawl Galatea, owned by Dr. J. A. Stewart of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club, and sailed by Ned Ashe, considered one of the best yachtsmen on the coast.

Vancouver's entry is Spirit II, owned by Harold A. Jones, commodore of the Royal Vancouver Yacht Club. The Spirit, a ship with an international reputation, is a 65-foot sloop and cost some $40,000 to build.

The Cressett, owned by D. P. Urry of Vancouver, was withdrawn from the contest before the starting gun.

FRESHENING BREEZE

This forenoon the wind was light and westerly and it was expected to freshen up by the afternoon to provide excellent sailing. A lot of tackling will have to be done on the outward leg, but if the wind remains in the same quarter the boats will come home in a spanking breeze. The course is 160 miles with a time limit of 60 hours to finish off Protection Island, on the American side.

Among other contestants in the Swiftsure race included the internationally famous yawl Dorade, owned by Ralph James of the Seattle Yacht Club. She is a 58-ft. ship, weighing 11 tons, has competed in many long distance races and won fame as the winner of the Honolulu race in 1936 by leading a fleet of 21 vessels to the finish from San Francisco to Hawaii. She has also won races in Great Britain and Norway.

Other entries include the ketch Thetis of Seattle; the sloop Linda of Seattle; the schooner Seaweed of Seattle; the Owens Cutter, owned by Charles Ross of Seattle; the sloop Neoga of Seattle, and the schooner Alotola, owned by Charles Frisbie of Seattle, a yachtsman well-known in Victoria.

Grain

WINNIPEG (CP)—The United Kingdom took 280,000 bushels of wheat under the Canadian agreement in the only export business reported on Winnipeg Grain Exchange today. Flour sales equivalent to 250,000 bushels in the last week were reported, the leading purchasers being India, the West Indies and Newfoundland.

FILMS AND 'FILM-ESE'

JUST AFTER I HAD WRITTEN on Colonel Blimp's deflation the other day, I ran across some information on "film-ese"—if I may be forgiven the word.

In my Blimp column I referred to certain anomalies of censorship, particularly the U.S. attitude towards "bad language" in British films.

And compared that country's censorship attitude towards expletives with its apparent laxity towards license in other directions.

So when a Hollywood writer recently expatiated on other language trials and tribulations of American producers, I read it with more than ordinary interest.

MANY DIFFERENCES

I HAVE LONG KNOWN that certain words in common use in Britain have a different meaning on this side of the world.

But I had never realized what this meant to Hollywood, until Bob Considine, writing for the International News Service, showed what an expensive headache this gives to the producers.

According to him, in no spot on earth is there a deeper appreciation of the differences between the English and American language than in Hollywood.

So much so that U.S. film-makers, aware that the industry's $125,000,000 profit in 1946 was just equal to the amount they received from foreign countries, are paying sharper attention to those markets.

EYE ON ENGLAND

IT MAY BE that British competition in the movie world is making itself felt, but the Hollywood studios are keeping a particularly sharp eye on the language of films intended for the British market.

To that end, miles of movies are re-taken or re-sounded each year to make the celluloid ring true to British ears.

For instance, the word "tabloid," which on this side of the world connotes a much-condensed newspaper, over there refers to a registered patent medicine.

A British housewife wouldn't recognize a "spool of thread" for what she knows as "a reel of cotton"—not that this is a term used very often in films, I imagine.

SOME ARE TABOO

THEN THE WORD "sick" to Britons implies retching, so Hollywood has to change it to "ill." A "vaudeville" show is known in England as a "variety show."

"Galluses" and "suspenders" have to be transformed into "braces," "vest" into "waistcoat," "elevators" become "lifts," and "streetcars" become "trams."

In England the word "bum" is also censorable, because their version refers to something not mentioned in polite society.

While the word "bugs," slangily used on this side to denote mental incapacity, also has to be altered because to them it connotes an obnoxious insect associated with filth.

WINGLESS ANGELS

BRITISH CENSORSHIP also prohibits the showing of angels with wings—by reason of which the film "I Married An Angel" had to be largely re-shot for overseas consumption.

Halos also are taboo in their films. Oddly enough the word "cancer" is also censorable, as is "sissy."

The vulgar sound known in Americanese as "the raspberry" also has to be expurgated for English showing.

However, Great Britain is not the only country which demands changes in Hollywood-made films before accepting them.

'YELLOW' IS OUT

NO MOVIE that leaves the United States can contain the word "yellow" as a synonym for cowardice, says Mr. Considine.

Because its use would be looked upon by countless thousands of Oriental and Asiatic customers as an affront.

As to Eire, all films going to theatres frequented by Irish patrons have to be stripped of all kissing and drinking sequences.

While a certain king of a foreign country is said to have banned all films showing shapely legs—because his queen's hardly belonged in that category.

Which means that Hollywood must have met with a very restricted market in that particular domain!

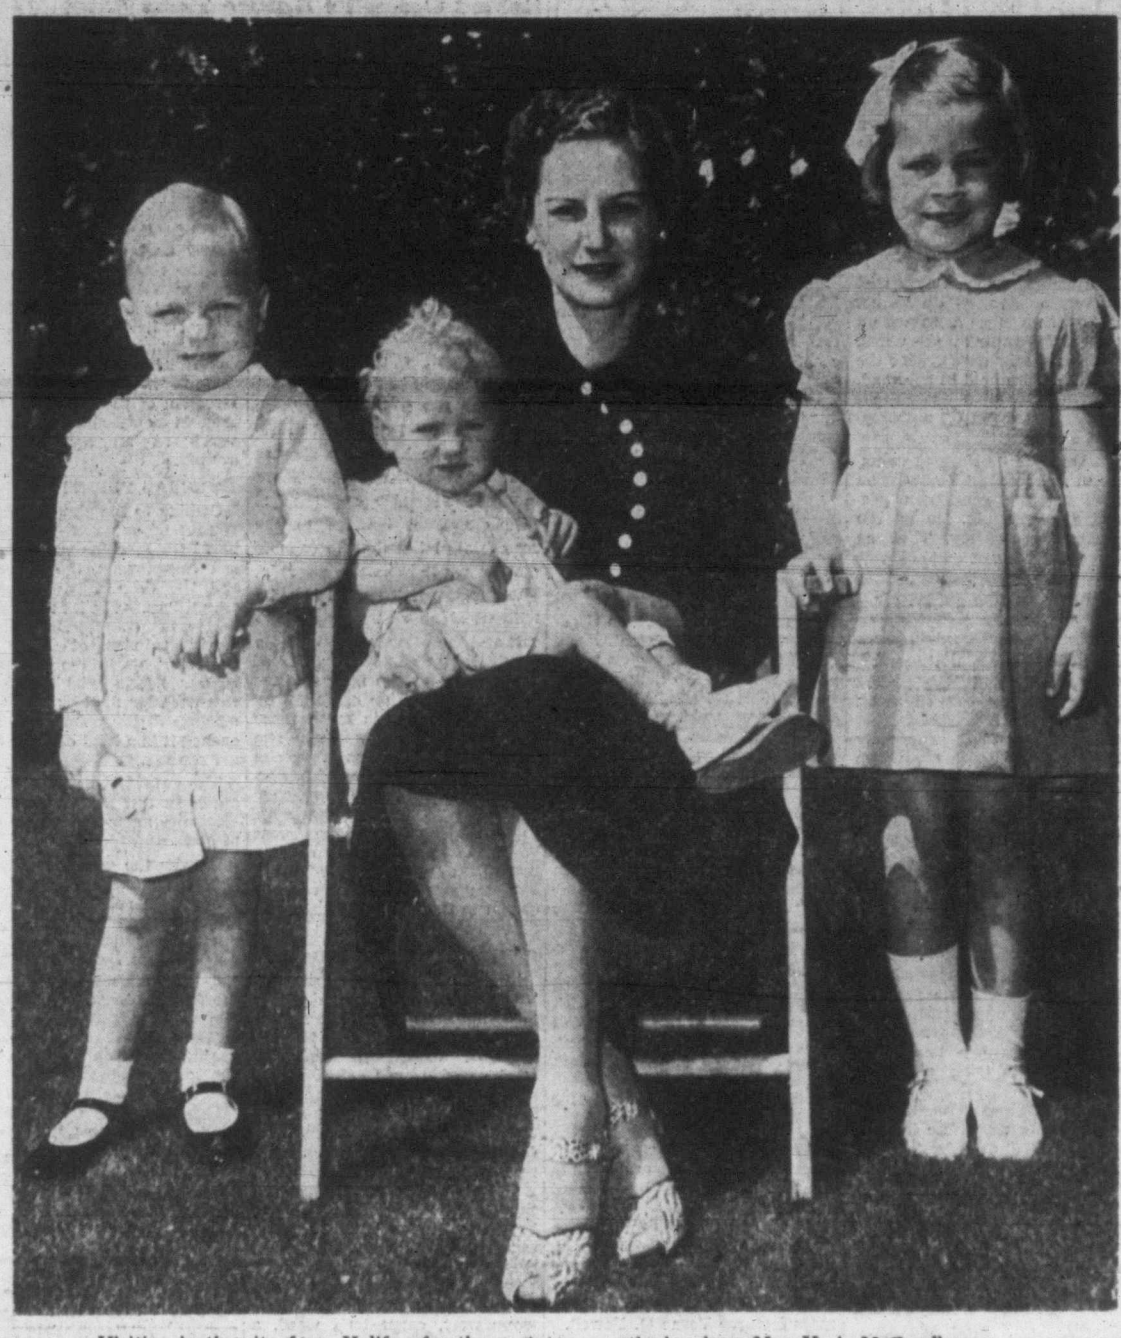
Personalities in The News



Visiting in the city from Halifax for the past two months has been Mrs. H. A. McCandless, with her three children, Pamela, Sandy and baby Vicki. They have been the guests of Mrs. McCandless' parents, Mr. and Mrs. George S. Brown, 3320 Weald Road, and will leave again for the Atlantic coast on July 4 to join Cmdr. (S) McCandless who is stationed at H.M.C.S. Stadacona.

Miss Shirley A. Walker has returned to the city to spend the summer with her parents, Reeve Walter Walker of Oak Bay and Mrs. Walker, 3375 Weald Road. A former member of the staff of Esquimalt High School, Miss Walker has just completed a year's post-graduate work at Columbia University, New York City.

Baron and Baroness John Knoop arrived from Sweden early this week to visit their son and daughter-in-law, Major and Mrs. Leo Knoop, 1647 Monterey Avenue, and to make their home here. . . . Baron Knoop, who owned a number of cotton mills in Esthonia, plans to devote much of his time to painting. . . . the baroness is looking for "a little place in the country," she says with a quiet smile, where "I can settle down to chicken farming, a hobby of many years." . . . Baron and Baroness Knoop are world travelers. They lived in England for a number of years where their sons, Leo and Nickolas, received their educations . . . also in Denmark where Baron Knoop was established in business.

Miss Rita James, a graduate in home economics of Municipal College, Bournemouth, England, and member of the Women's Land Army during the war years, always wanted to "try her luck" in one of the British dominions, to see, as she says, if she could "make a go of it." . . . Recently her dream came true. . . . She was able to make arrangements to fly to New York and from there to Victoria where she will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Street, Beckwith Avenue, Saanich, for several months. Miss James is enthusiastic about Canada and plans to stay in this part of the world if possible. Her mother, Mrs. Susan James, is still in Bournemouth but will come to Canada at a later date "for a visit, at least," Miss James says.

Little Old Man Says He Has Invented Death Ray

Here's a guinea pig ready for treatment by what a secretive French inventor claims is a death ray. For what happened to the guinea pig, see the picture at lower right.

"Pouf" goes the Frenchman's gadget, and "Pouf" goes Monsieur Guinea Pig, right up in that cloud of smoke says the photographer.

By ROSETTE HARGROVE

PARIS—A little old man is wandering around his back garden in suburban Paris these days waving a gadget that looks like the business end of a watering can.

If his neighbors could see him, they would probably think he was sprinkling the flowers, or maybe spraying bugs on the hedge row.

Little do they know.

The little old man says it's a death ray. And he is not killing bugs. The guinea pig, yes; and the enemy, maybe.

The gadget is very, very secret. It is being ignored in official circles, and the little old man maintains a rugged bodyguard at his garden gate.

The Agence Photographique Francaise, however, heard that a control commission was going to witness a demonstration of this secret weapon. They stationed a photographer nearby, armed with a telescopic lens even more formidable looking than the little old man's gadget.

The photographer reports that the inventor showed up in his garden with a large knapsack on his back. Tubes, or maybe wires, connected the knapsack with the gadget the man held in his hand. It resembled (a) a searchlight (b) a spray gun and (c) a photographer's flash gun.

While some uniformed members of the control commission looked on, the gentleman produced a guinea pig. He let the pig start scampering. Then he pressed the trigger.

"Pouf" went the gadget.

"Pouf," went the guinea pig—up in smoke, the photographer reports.

Now despite all the secrecy, certain facts about the gadget have reached the French press, possibly through a guinea pig which got away. It supposedly works by means of a ray which affects only the target at which it is aimed.

Therefore, if you had two guinea pigs, say, one close by, and the other a little way off and the first guinea pig was right in the path of the ray, the first guinea pig wouldn't be harmed at all if you were aiming at the second one.

At present, it is reported, the weapon is not feasible for continuous mass operations. After every five or six shots, a certain piece of mechanism has to be replaced. This takes about an hour.

The biggest secret seems to be the inventor's name. He has not been identified, even by the photographer with the telescopic lens or by the guinea pig.

In official army circles, which claim they never sent any control commission to study any such thing at all, the attitude is:

"The death ray? Pouf."

Radio Personalities

By FLORENCE LARINDE

Veteran performer Al Jolson, who recently guested on Radio Theatre, received one of his biggest laughs from the cast and crew members when he suddenly broke out into a 'soft shoe tap" between songs. Jolson was immediately joined by another veteran, Ludwig Donath, who portrayed Al's father in "The Jolson Story." Donath not only kept the pace but stayed with it longer!

Dinah Shore signed off her musical show for the season recently with another popularity record bestowed upon her. Billboard magazine announced that its poll of American and Canadian radio editors proved Dinah their favorite girl singer for the sixth time.

Every household contains one person who rules the roost. In the home of Ed "Archie" Gardner, manager of Duffy's Tavern, it isn't Ed himself or even his pretty, blonde wife, Simone—it is Eddie, Junior. Young Eddie is all of three years old.

The lad carries off his honors with ease and aplomb. Recently, he was given a gold life pass to the Polo Grounds by the New York Giants—an honor not yet conferred on his father, despite the fact that Ed, Senior, annually works out with the team in spring practice.

A recent youthful visitor in the household brought his own mongrel pup with him and Eddie Jr. became deeply attached to the dog. When the guest departed he presented young Eddie with the pup, called Anything, but felt he should have something in return. So Ed Senior came through handsomely with a pedigreed French poodle as a gift for Junior's chum.

What is probably the most valuable flute in all radio is the one heard in the background music on Mr. District Attorney.

Edward V. Powell, first flutist in Peter Van Steeden's orchestra, plays a 24-carat gold flute, one of three known to be in existence. It was made by his father, flute manufacturer Verne Q. Powell.

The younger Powell has an inventive touch, too. He designed the chromette, a miniature woodwind. He intended it originally as a training aid for students of the clarinet, oboe, flute or saxophone, but it has proven to be suitable for use in an orchestra,

Robert Connell's Nature Talks

Midsummer Flowers Of Field And Rocky Shore

From the street one of the few remaining fields within the city bounds shows a broad expanse of grass broken here and there it may be by a wild rose bush or a clump of seeding lupines. But a stroll across it may discover more wild flowers than one would expect.

The straight-beaked buttercup has but a few dwindled blossoms but its yellow is more than replaced by the handsome flowers of the slender cinquefoil. These in form resemble small roses (the cinquefoil belongs to the rose family) but the the color is that known to artists as aureolin. The surface of the petal is quite without shine and suggests velvet, and the color is interestingly modified by a tiny spot of orange just at the inner base.

This modification of colors by spots and stripes is much more common in flowers than one might think and has a special interest in the relation of nectar-hunting insects to the storehouse of the sweet. Yet it is impossible to avoid seeing in the great variety of patterns and contrasts more than mere utility. Many of our very small flowers owe their charm to ther color schemes and patterns.

YARROW WIDESPREAD

The white blossoms of the yarrow also greet us in the grassy places. It is one of the most widespread of plants in the northern hemisphere and its familiar flattened clusters of small white flowers and its feathery leaves with their strong aromatic smell are among the things that to many a wanderer recall his native land.

Outside of sentiment we don't think much of yarrow nowadays but it was not always so. The plant had a great reputation in the treatment of wounds and bleeding; so it was called Achillea after the great Achilles, soldier's woundwort, carpenter's weed, a French name also for it, and nosebleed. In the days when spices were rare and expensive it got the name of poor-man's pepper and I believe that even yet a tea is made from it.

Another woundwort commonly called heal-all or self-heal is now blossoming in the grassy places, Prunella vulgaris. It is called prunella because it was reputed a cure for that old-time complaint quinsy or brunella. But it has still more names that honor it as another woundwort suitable for applying to cuts in workshop or harvest field, such as herb-carpenter, hook-heal, hookweed, sickle-heal, sickle-wort. Another name is "heart of the earth." A decoction of the leaves is still in use in old-fashioned country places as an application for wounds.

BRODEIAS PLENTIFUL

Coming to the plants along the margin of our rocky shores we find both brodeias very plentiful and conspicuous, the white one and the deep blue, lactea and grandiflora. Hoker's onion, Allium acuminatum, makes bright patches of light rose-purple. This is the commonest of our native wild onions and was used for food by the Indians who, as J. R. Anderson tells us, cooked it in a kind of kiln as they did camass.

The gumweed or Grindelia lanata is in full flower, the golden blossoms among snowy patches of gum.

Nearby the woolly sunflower's yellow bloom makes a worthy rival. The salal is rich in pale pink glandular flowers peeping out from under the stiff evergreen leaves. Wild blackberries are plentiful already, the fruit, however, mostly still in its unripe stage. The purple-blue flower clusters of the American vetch are handsome as they rise above the lower herbage and in barer spots the little blue and white lupine is still seen, but nearly at the end of its flowering season.

Another still smaller flower of the pea family is the Spanish clover, Hosackia americana, with roughly silky leaves and stems and dainty little solitary flowers of pale pink and yellow. The buttercups of spring are over but there are numbers of daisies of diminutive size.

Dog Notes

DOGS WERE HELD FOR TRIAL

Years ago primitive law enforcement officers for some reason assumed that dogs were man's equal in intelligence and held them just as responsible as a human being if they broke a law. Here is how they reasoned. For example, if a dog had bitten a person without first barking a warning, the animal was considered to have committed a wilful act of violence. And yet, if the dog had barked first, well then it was deemed that the dog had acted in self defense.

Such beliefs are still held in certain section of the world today. In Africa, dogs belonging to the tribal natives that are caught stealing food are hanged. The animals are left suspended from a tree limb near the village square as an example and a warning to other dogs and human tribal members who might be inclined to take property that does not belong to them.

AMOUNT TO FEED DOG

How much should I feed my dog? that seems to be a question pondered often by dog owners. Generally speaking, the dog's appetite should be your guide. Never overfeed; give only as much food as a dog will eat up readily. Watch your pet's condition. If too thin, increase his diet; if too fat decrease the amount.

Toy breeds, such as pekinese, etc., require 2 to 4 ounces of food daily. Small breeds, Bostons, etc., require 4 to 8 ounces. Give medium breeds, airdales, etc., about one half pound of food per day. Large breeds such as shepherds need one to one and a quarter pounds of food daily. The very large breeds such as great Danes, etc., require one and one half to two pounds of food.

COST PER POUND

On a per pound basis, dogs often come quite high. A prize-winning poodle was recently sold by an English fancier to an American buyer for $3,500. The fuzzy white dog weighs only 28 pounds, so the buyer paid about $125 per pound for his dog. This is one instance in which the original investment will be more than the upkeep.

RESPECT FOR THE DEAD

Do dogs have a canine way of expressing sympathy? I wonder, especially after receiving the following letter from a friend of mine. He writes that recently he was out in a field with his dog. Not far away another dog was romping along. Suddenly the dog stopped, rolled over three times and hurried away. Approaching the spot at which this curious action had occurred, my friend found a dead dog. The moment his dog saw the animal it too rolled over three times and hurried away. Maybe that is a canine mark of respect to the departed? I wonder.

"Dogs were held responsible just as were humans."

SUBWAY TRAFFIC

On a New York subway station recently I noticed a man with a dog trying to enter. A guard had stopped him and was explaining that it was against the rules to ride with a dog. The man walked dejectedly away. I spoke to the guard a few moments later, and he told me that the man apparently had recently arrived from Germany where they allow dogs on streetcars on payment of a special fare.

By an odd coincidence when I took my seat on the train I found next to me a youngster in tattered clothes holding a box in his lap. Something moved inside the box and I asked him what it was. He replied, "My dog, I am taking him home to Brooklyn."

FOR FLIES ON EARS

If your dog is bothered in the hot weather by flies that bite his ears and cause sores, try applying a 10 per cent ointment of oil of cade, oil of tar, or creolin made up with a base of lanolin. This will keep the flies away and free your dog of this annoying discomfort.

THE QUESTION BOX

Question: The hair of my dog is falling off in circular patches. The skin is dry and covered with a number of small pimples. What do you think is wrong?—K.H.L.

Answer: Undoubtedly your dog is suffering from ringworm. Because this disease is communicable to human beings, I would suggest that you place your pet in the hands of a competent veterinarian.

Question: Should a young puppy be given raw or cooked meat? —T.B.

Answer: You may give a young puppy either raw or cooked meat. I normally advise feeding raw meat mixed with vegetables.

MISSING BOYS RETURN SAFELY

Fears for the safety of three boys on a camping trip were put at ease when the lads limped home. One had cut his foot, but his pals had bandaged and dressed it with Zam-Buk carried in a First-Aid Kit. "I'm sure glad I took my First-Aid Kit with Zam-Buk Ointment along," one freckle-faced lad declared.

Because this antiseptic, herbal ointment is so safe to use, many parents teach their children to apply Zam-Buk quickly in case of cuts, burns, bruises, sprains. Keep Zam-Buk in your medicine chest always. Remember—a little foresight may save a lot of trouble.

ZAM-BUK, the healing, antiseptic ointment with dozens of home uses, including the relief of tired, aching feet and sore red hands, is sold by all druggists. 2-i

3 OUT OF 5 END BALDNESS—Grow New Hair!

AUGUST 26, 1946
Newsweek
the chorus of praise from owners of hairless noggins mounted in volume, and Youcheff finally was convinced he had the secret.
In Los Angeles last week he was elated. From all sides testimonials still were pouring in. NEWSWEEK's Los Angeles correspondent interviewed ten users; all claimed definite growth of hair. Among them: an accountant, an actor, an ad man, a publisher, and a well-known credit manager. If the evidence could be believed, if Youcheff's optimism was justified, then the gags about the bald-headed row would shortly vanish in a new hirsute age.

Local Drug Stores Now Have This Sensational Scalp Preparation . . .

Here at last is the scalp preparation that made headline news in Newsweek, Business Week and other leading publications. From Los Angeles to New York it has been a sensation. Men by the thousands are now watching and admiring new vigorous hair growth. In many cases less than a month has shown results. Perhaps you, too, are one of the three out of five. It's worth finding out.

Hooked Everything In Inlet But A Fish

By ROY THORSEN

News, according to the desk, is when somebody accomplishes something . . . and only in unusual cases when others fail in their endeavors.

This also applies in the sport fishing picture . . . for that is the reason why fellows who catch fish are in the news columns and those who do not—and they, most of the time, are in the majority—get no mention.

Hence this story. It is a yarn repeated time and again in Saanich Inlet

Detective John Lund and I started out from Hall's boathouse at the Goldstream end at 7.30 last Sunday morning.

Johnny, who did not have a steel line for his new rod manufactured by buddy Tommy Fraser, borrowed Hall's, complete with a plug.

THE BELL RINGS

In a 10-foot, inboard-engined craft we had just settled down to a day of fishing in the narrows about 100 yards north of the Goldstream island on the east side when the bell on the end of John's rod started ringing vigorously.

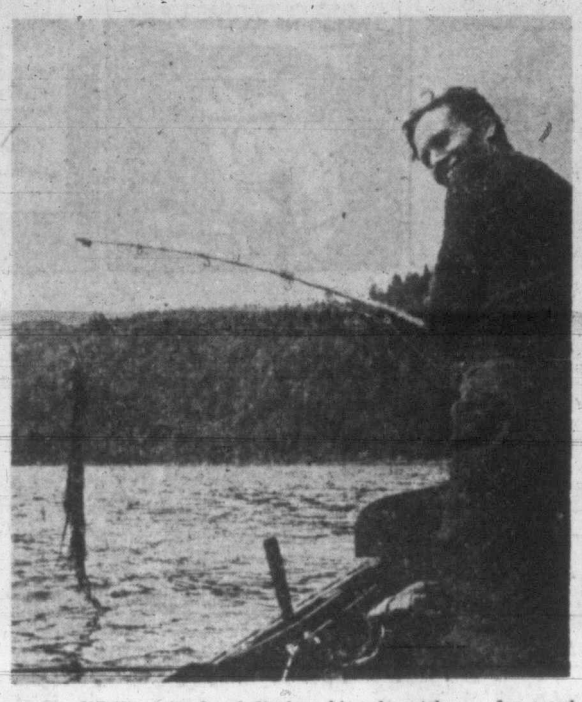
He whirled into action, a gleam of triumph in his eyes. However, there was no further tugging from the other end and it was soon realized the bottom had been hooked. All of Johnny's muscle-straining failed to free the multi-barbed lure and finally in the struggle something gave. It was the line.

Undaunted, Lund started all over again, this time a small Wonder spoon being put out to entice the fish.

For two hours the hunt went on without a hint of interest by the hunted.

About an hour before lunch-time in the Deep Hole waters, the Lund rod went into contortions again. We were in deep water, and said John: "It can't possibly be botom again!"

It wasn't. Occupants of another boat who had crossed our rear 100' yards away also started to reel in. So did the boat on our other side. It all boiled down to a three-way tangle of lines, which was cleared up after quite a delay.



Broadly-grinning John Lund displays his sole catch . . . Jap weed.

At lunch on the beach we were joined by president Harry Woolston of the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association and his angling partner.

After this we started out again, John still the optimist.

I went to sleep, curled up in the bow. An hour later I was roused by a shout from John. I immediately figured, "He's gone and done it again with the bottom."

I was wrong. This time it was a mass of Jap weed, which is such a nuisance in fishing these days, that had agitated the rod.

That cleared off, John began again. I curled up to resume where I had left off.

It was getting on toward 3 in the afternoon when another shout tore me from the arms of Morpheus.

Maybe it was a fish that had struck at his lure. Maybe it was bottom. His line parted—and another Wonder spoon and a big herring dodger joined the thousands of other lures on the inlet floor.

JOHN THROWS IN THE TOWEL

That was where John's confidence gave out. The decision to quit for the day was unanimous, because I had become quite bored by the lack of interest on the part of the fish.

We spun back to Hall's with the putt-putt wide open.

While on the dock chinning away with others of the angling clan, veteran fisherman Don McLean, whom we had watched winning a fight with a fish in the weed-crowded Deep Hole earlier, yelled over to ask if we wanted a fish.

John got his bid in first. It was a last resort to provide Mrs. Lund with the main course for supper.

It weighed just a little better than three pounds, but was definitely a poor show for a picture. We decided to enlarge the little fellow in a faked picture—John holding the little fellow three feet in front of him close to the eye of the camera at the end of a gaff.

It looks like a button-size fish in the picture and John will undoubtedly be telling his sons Wilf and Peter when they get older about the great fight he had with the "big fellow."

It was good weather, anyway.

Depreciated Yen Causes Shows Japs Cost Of War

By RICHARD C. FERGUSON

TOKYO—Hungry Japanese can well pause and think of those good old days before Japan started her march of conquest. The sad history of the last decade is written in yen—depreciated yen.

In that decade, the Japanese have learned the cost of war through their empty stomachs. Here are a few of the reasons:

The 360 yen they must now pay for a single pound of sugar (when they can get it) would have bought a mountainous pile of 2400 pounds just 10 years ago. In those days, sugar cost only 15 sen a pound. A sen is one-one hundredth of a yen.

Rice, staple of Japan, has gone up from eight sen to 16 yen. Today's price for a single pound once would have fed a man and his wife for four months.

Flour is up from seven sen to 35 yen a pound. Soy sauce, used in every Japanese meal, is up from 39 sen to 150 yen a half gallon, eggs from five sen to 10 yen each. For today's price of a single egg a housewife once could have bought 200. Potatoes are six yen a pound against only five sen a decade ago.

Inflation is even roughening the course of true love.

In the "good old days" a Japanese swain could feel rich with 10 yen in his pocket. He and his girl could dine in a swanky restaurant for three yen, take in a movie for one more. A taxi home cost one yen and he'd still have money left over.

Now, for the same 10 he could go to a movie alone. Then he'd be broke.

He can't even afford to write a love note to his girl friend. Once this simple government service would have cost him three sen postage. Today, the bill is one yen, 20 sen—up 3900 per cent.

Clothes are just as much of a problem.

For comparison purposes I took a picture of a rather ordinarily dressed couple on a Tokyo street and asked a haberdasher on the Ginza to appraise their clothes. Here's the result:

Man's clothes: Three-piece suit, 5000 yen (formerly 80 yen). White shirt, 800 yen formerly two yen, 50 sen). Necktie, 400 yen (two sen). Shoes, 2000 yen (20 yen) Totals, up from 104 yen, 50 sen, to 8200 yen.

Woman's clothes: Kimono, 3000 yen (formerly 50 yen). Sash, 1000 yen (30 yen). Sash tie cord, 300 yen (10). Brooch, a necessary part of the sash, 150 yen (20 yen). Slippers, 400 yen (13 yen). Purse 1000 yen (20 yen). Socks, 120 yen (eight yen). Gloves 250 yen (five yen. Total, up from 156 yen to 6220 yen.

WELL DRESSED: Outfitting this ordinarily dressed Tokyo couple today would cost 8200 yen for the man as against 104 yen a decade ago; for the lady, 6220 yen as against 156 yen.

10-YEAR DIFFERENCE: What the pound of flour (foreground) costs in Japan today (35 yen) would have brought the 500 pounds (shown in background) ten years ago.

How much is a yen in dollar language? It doesn't mean anything to the average Japanese, of course, unless he's mixed up in the black market. But for comparison, the official exchange rate is 50 yen to the dollar (recently raised from 150 yen to the dollar). The black market rate ranges between 200 and 300 yen for $1. Ten years ago the official exchange rate was 5 yen to the dollar.

Lorette Pruning Can Be Successfully Practiced In Northwest In Summer

In the equable and temperate climate of the Northwest, we are fortunate in being able to take advantage of a very satisfactory method of pruning, which has been used for generations in Normandy, Brittany and Southern England, where the climate is like ours. My father and I learned it from a Jesuit brother many years ago.

Summer Lorette pruning can be successfully practiced only in certain areas where the climate is like ours. Because of this many gardeners are not familiar with it. In the east, where it is hot and dry in the summer, this pruning which is so effective here, would cause sun scald or sunburn. Trees make their own protection from the hot summer sun and except where the nights are cool and the sunshine is filtered, as it is here, summer pruning is very damaging.

This method is equally effective when used for normal fruit trees, dwarf fruit trees and espalier trees.

WINTER PRUNING FAILURE

One of the great failings of fruit tree pruning in winter, is that it encourages too much useless growth. Fruit trees pruned year after year with care, generally make a heavy growth next season, yet the desired fruit crop has been sparse or lacking.

In the main, Lorette pruning applies to apple and pear trees, but it can be practiced in one form or another on almost every kind of fruit tree. Moreover, under this system, pruning does away with winter pruning almost entirely.

The Lorette system aims principally to get fruit spurs thickly studded all along the branches. When properly done, it undoubtedly means not only more fruit, and finer fruit, but also fruit every year—which does not always occur when the usual pruning is done.

The work is carried out in easy stages through spring and summer. Fruit trees generally produce their fruits on spurs or short laterals, not direct from the trunks or branches. Main stems or branches persistently produce laterals every season, and the natural reaction to cutting away these laterals in winter is the production of still more wood. A tree naturally will settle down to fruiting in due time if left alone, but the gardener, unlike the orchardist, wants small trees to fruit, and if he follows the usual winter pruning custom he is apt to be disappointed.

GENERAL PRINCIPLES

The Lorette system requires study, but one can follow the general principles quite readily. Instead of the usual pruning practice, which is cut back all laterals during the winter to the last bud or two, as well as the leaders if the tree has reached full size, Lorette pruning entails all summer and no winter pruning. The fruit buds are formed by the end of June. It is, therefore, useless to assume that winter pruning can bring about fruit buds. If they are not there (in embryo) no winter pruning will create them; in fact, the only effect of such pruning is to make the eyes push forth more strong branch growths.

At the end of April or early in May—when wood growth is only beginning—the leader shoots are pruned. Only the leader shoots are touched at this stage—a leader, of course, being the long young shoot at the end of each main branch or stem made last year.

Each leader shoot is shortened by about one-third; or if growth is soft and buds seem not too well developed, each is shortened by just about half. It may be noted that the whole object of the leader cutting is to make the wood buds break out all along the leader shoots and to overcome the habit that some sorts have of breaking out only near the shoot-tip and leaving a lot of bare wood. The Lorette pruning aims to get fruit buds from top to bottom of every branch.

SIDE-SHOOTS TIPPED

A few weeks after the leader shortening, any young side-shoots that have grown rapidly and are "running away" from others are "tipped." This is to preserve a balance of young growth throughout the tree. In June it is the turn of the young lateral or side-shoots to be shortened as they become sufficiently thickened. Each lateral, as near as can be judged, is pruned when about the thickness of a lead pencil and is starting to get woody near the base. Each lateral is then cut very hard, to within about one-half inch of the base, leaving only one or two rudimentary leaves showing.

In these leaf-axils there are stipulary, or dormant, "eyes," as they are called, and it is these the pruning aims to change into fruit buds.

This treatment of the young side-shoots continues through June and into July, the shoots being dealt with as they become ready and attain roughly the thickness of a pencil. Varieties differ considerably, and pears are usually ready for this lateral pruning a little earlier than are most apples. To do the work properly means visiting the trees periodically and pruning back at each visit all the laterals sufficiently forward in growth.

At the end of August or maybe a little before—according to the season—a close search is made over all the pruned back shoots for "secondary" or late growth from the summer-pruned shoots. This has to be cut off. To leave it means that the basal buds—the fruit-buds to be—will be robbed and weakened.

THE SUMMER ROUTINE

To keep this secondary growth in check means keeping close watch on the trees for several weeks, from early July onwards, and wherever it grows out from the pruned shoots, it must be pinched clean off.

In September comes the final clean-up, when all unwanted, diseased or weakly limbs are cut clean out and the wounds made at once covered with a coating of tree paint.

One question is bound to arise in the minds of many amateurs—how to make the change-over from the ordinary winter pruning to the Lorette system. It is done in this way: The leader shoots on the tree having been shortened at the winter pruning, wait until new lateral growth begins, and then treat it as advised above. But next season, if you intend to follow the Lorette system, leave the leader pruning until spring.

CLEANER TREES

One of the least recognized advantages of the system of Lorette pruning is that it serves to control many diseases and insects which attack trees.

For instance, the powdery mildew which so severely damages the spring growth (in some instances entirely destroying the leafage) attacks the tip leaves and shoot first. Since under the Lorette system of pruning this growth is removed, before infestation, there is little possibility of it getting a start on the tree.

Insect pests, such as the rings of tent caterpillar eggs, and other tree-borne troubles are either removed during pruning or they are so obvious at pruning-time that they are noticed and cleaned up at that time.

Big Ben, Monarch Of Time, Nears 90th Year

By ALFONSO MAURI

LONDON—Big Ben in Britain's Houses of Parliament, monarch among time-tellers, whose chimes are known in every corner of the world, runs as smoothly on its original mechanism today as it did when it was installed nearly 90 years ago.

This world-famous part of the Westminster landscape, which is not only the largest striking clock but the most accurate public clock in the world, takes its name from its 13½-ton bell upon which the hours are struck. Its christening was a joke. When Parliament was discussing names, a member, with one eye on big burly Sir Benjamin Hall, first commissioner of works, suddenly exclaimed, "why not Big Ben?" There were roars of laughter. But the name has stuck through the years.

Big Ben of course has not accomplished the impossible. It has stopped on occasions and the world has stopped and taken notice! There was the time when a rat's nest in the works brought the clock repairers who care for it running in double time to the rescue. Another occasion was when it was doctored in 1944 for air raid injuries and a workman's hammer became wedged in vital parts.

Goebbels knew the sentimental and far-reaching value of Big Ben. One night in 1940 the German radio broadcast that it had struck 13 times at midnight and Goebbels' crack announcer said: "Superstitious people interpreted this fact as an evil omen. But the more realistic Londoners assumed that the works of Big Ben must have been badly shaken by the bomb explosions in the London area."

But Goebbels had misfired, he had been too clever. Messrs. Dent, clockmakers of London, who supervised Big Ben's installation and have tended it through the years, promptly explained that Big Ben just cannot strike 13. Its mechanism will not let it

HA'PENNY IS CHECK

Big Ben's punctuality is checked by a halfpenny for example. A tray is fixed about halfway down the pendulum which is 13 feet long and beat once every two seconds. When the clock is losing slightly, a halfpenny is placed on the tray. This makes the pendulum vibrate slightly more quickly. If the clock is gaining, a halfpenny is removed from the tray.

Modern winding-up technique affords some compensation to its present guardians. It used to take two men working five hours each, three times a-week, to roll over 400 feet of steel cable around three huge cylinders powering the mechanism. Attached to these cables are three loads of a total weight of 2½ tons, one load for the hour striking mechanism, the second for the chimes and the third for the hands.

Now an electric motor supplies the power at a cost of a few pence and does the job in 40 minutes.

TRAVEL 100 MILES

Four dials 22½ feet in diameter are 180 feet above the ground level and are electrically illuminated at night. Each of the minute hands is 14 feet long and weighs 224 pounds. In the course of a year they travel a distance of about 100 miles. The hour hands are nine feet long but are far heavier than the minute hands, being about 672 pounds each.

The pendulum "Bob" weighs 448 pounds and the weights which drive the clock aggregate nearly 2½ tons. It is frequently erroneously stated that Big Ben is controlled from the Greenwich Royal Observatory. Actually the clock reports its performance to Greenwich daily. An average yearly report by the Astronomer Royal shows that Big Ben's error on 130 days is less than two-tenths of a second.

TIMES WANT ADS

A Lot To Learn

By JAMES FREEMAN

Old Inspector Casper Strong watched carefully as young Detective Colin East glanced around the room. The old man didn't want to appear critical or impatient. He remembered when he was a rookie. There wasn't much you could tell him then. He had been quick to take offence when someone pointed out an error, easily hurt when someone proved he was wrong.

The girl lay on the floor, a still, cold, crumpled heap. A small bottle was clutched in her right hand. The word "poison" was written on the bottle, surmounted by a skull and crossbones.

A note lay on a table nearby; a chair was half twisted away from the table as though the girl had turned it when she struggled and fell to the floor.

Beside the note was a pencil. The note read: "I have no one to blame for this but myself. I was a fool to ever come to New York."

Across the room near a window a young man sat in a chair, his head in his hands, a picture of despair and misery.

Young East read the note without touching it. He looked down at the girl, glanced over at the young man, then looked at the inspector.

"She wasn't the usual run," he said. "That note is well written. Too bad she had to die."

Young East glanced toward the man near the window. "Weaver!" he said sharply.

The man looked up. There were streaks on his face, made by tears.

"You discovered the body?" East said.

"Yes. We were going out. I called for her an hour ago. There was no answer. I opened the door.

Young East glanced at the bowed head of the man near the window.

She was—was—" He broke off. East walked over to the inspector.

"I'd like to question the landlady," he said.

The inspector nodded and spoke to someone outside the door. A moment later a small and tired looking woman entered. She showed little emotion.

"I'd like to ask you one question," East said. "Was Miss Vail left-handed?"

The landlady hesitated. Then her face lighted. "Yes. Yes, she was. I remember seeing her at the telephone writing down notes. She always moved the pad over and wrote with her left hand."

"Ah!" declared East, almost exultantly. "You may go, madame." The landlady went out. East looked at his superior triumphantly. "It wasn't suicide. It was murder! Murder! I tell you."

"What makes you think so?" asked the inspector.

East pointed to the form of the girl. "See! The bottle is held in her right hand. A left-handed person would hold the bottle in his or her left hand. Inspector, I suspected this from the start. It looked too cut-and-dried, too obvious. That's one thing I have learned: When things look obvious, start asking yourself questions. This girl was cold-bloodedly murdered!"

"Weaver," began Colin East, and then stopped. The inspector had laid a restraining hand on his arm. The inspector was smiling in a kindly fashion, yet gently reproving the impetuous young detective.

Resentment flashed into the eyes of Detective East. He followed Casper Strong reluctantly to where the girl lay. The old inspector reached down and removed the bottle from between the girl's stiffening fingers. Then he picked up her other hand, the left hand. It held a stopper. He removed the stopped and fitted it to the bottle. It was a snug fit. He pressed it hard.

"Now, look," he said. "Being right-handed I hold the bottle in my right hand and attempt to remove the stopper with my left. It doesn't budge. So I shift hands, holding now the bottle in my left hand and pulling the stopper with my right. I do this because I am right-handed, hence there is more strength in my right hand."

"I guessed at it after looking around. See the note on the table and the pencil beside it. The pencil is on the left side. That indicates that the girl was left-handed. Now I discovered that the stopper for the bottle is in the girl's left hand. It is a glass stopper. Glass stoppers are difficult to remove if pressed down tightly, as one would be in a bottle of poisoning. Besides, that note is written in a feminine hand. It is unlikely that a man could imitate it." The inspector smiled."

QUIET AND SHY

By MEREDITH SCHOLL

When there are two men and a girl involved there is bound to be trouble. Especially when the girl is as good looking as Simone Mill.

She had reddish hair and greenish eyes, and she liked sports. We invited her to spend a couple of weeks with us at camp, not knowing, of course, that Val Marcus was going to surprise us with a visit. We hadn't planned on Val. In fact, we had hoped that Simone and Neil Spangler, who painted pictures for a living and owned the camp across the cove where he lived with motherly Mrs. Nesbit, his housekeeper, would find a good deal of interest in each other.

Simone, who had been used to the big strong athletic type, liked him. They got along fine. Then Val arrived, and we decided she had been only marking time with Neil until somebody more like herself came along.

I'd met Val out west the summer before and asked him to drop in and see us if he ever came east. He was too handsome for his own good. More, he had that natural, instinctive co-ordination between brain and muscles that makes good athletes.

The first few days Val was with us Simone didn't see Neil. That made me feel bad. I know Neil and I know Val. The latter is too loud, too sure of himself, too boastful. In the final analysis he wouldn't be able to give a girl as much as Neil.

"You dope," I told him the day I walked over and found him sitting on his front porch brooding, "if you love the girl, why don't you do something about it? You do love her, don't you?"

He smiled without rancor. "Yes," he said. "She's the first girl I've ever really loved."

"That's dandy!" I told him sarcastically. "So you love the lass and you're willing to sit here like a bump on a log and watch a windbag like Val Marcus walk off with her."

"There isn't anything I can do," he told me patiently. "She's had a week to find out what I'm like. It's only fair that she has a week to find out what Val's like. Then she'll have to make her own decision."

"Well, I'll be ——!" I stalked back through the woods. Simone and Val had gone swimming. Mary, my wife, was alone on the porch. "That dubber!" I told her. "Sitting there as calm as you please and letting this guy with the movie actor profile sell his girl the idea what a wonder he is." I told her what Neil had said.

Mary smiled. Curiously, there is a similarity about Mary and Neil. They are both quiet and shy, yet they both seem to get what they want.

"I wouldn't worry about Neil," she said. "Neil's smart."

That may be all right. I could agree with her that Neil was smart. But was Val Marcus. Besides being smart Val was good looking and smooth.

In the week that followed Mary had Neil over to dinner almost every night, and seeing him again had its effect on Simone. After all, there was definitely something about Neil that had an appeal. You could see that half the time she was undecided and worried and unhappy. Val could see it, too, and he apparently worked on the premise that the less Simone was exposed to Neil the better his chances would be. So after dinner he always suggested a swim, or canoeing in the moonlight or climbing a mountain or something; things at which he was good. Neil, the dope, never made any objections. Half the time, though Simone urged him, he didn't accompany them. It made me disgusted.

In fact, I was about ready to admit that Neil didn't, after all, have the stuff I thought he had. Then one night just before dinner he came by in his outboard and asked Val to go fishing. He knew, he said, where there was a big one they could knuckle into before time to eat.

Val couldn't very well refuse. Simone and Mary and I sat on the porch and watched them put across the lake. Neil headed directly for the opposite shore and when they were about half a mile out he cut his motor. It was a still, clear evening, so still that you could hear very small sounds out on the lake. You could hear the rattle of things in the boat. You could hear the sound of voices.

Dusk had come. We three sat very still. We could hear Val's boastful tone. "Say, women are all alike. Why, in college I had a dozen of 'em chasing after me." We could hear Neil's voice. It was low and undistinguishable. Then Val again: "The thing to do is be smart. Forget the marriage stuff. Make 'em love you. That's where the percentage is. Now, you take Simone—" Just then Mary rattled a newspaper. I coughed. Simone got up and went quickly into the house.

I saw Neil alone two days later Val had gone home, angry and puzzled. "Congratulations, Neil. Simone told us the good news. Bet you'll be happy together." I paused. "Don't mind saying I thought you'd lost your grip there for awhile."

He grinned that slow, shy grin. "Confidentially, I don't mind telling you I thought we never would get a clear, quiet evening."

GOOD HORSES

By VIC YARDMAN

Jig Hayden rubbed his hands and smiled in greedy satisfaction when Joe Ware, owner and manager of the Welcome U dude ranch, explained about the lack of cars.

"We've found that most people," Joe was explaining to the Severances, "like the idea of getting away from the new fangled gadgets of civilization when they come out here. The Welcome U allus has got along without automobiles."

"It's O.K.," Andrew Severance mumbled, "as long as things run along smoothly."

"We got horses," the ranch owner said laconically. "An' they're danged good horses, too. Then, once every other day the beach wagon comes up from Thunderbolt."

But when the beach wagon returned to the Welcome U two days later Andrew Severance wasn't even on hand to witness its arrival and departure. He was off in the hills riding, accompanied by a cowboy named Slim North. The broker had, as Joe Ware knew he would, forgotten about his being isolated and the fact that his Wall Street office might need his attention.

Everything would have turned out fine and Joe would have chalked up another pair of satisfied customers to the long list of guests who had vacationed at the Welcome U—if it hadn't been for Jig Hayden.

Jig Hayden had come to the Welcome U because the Severances had come. But no one knew that. Everyone thought he was a school teacher on vacation. No one would have guessed that Jig Hayden had schemed and thought and dreamed for two years about the pearl necklace that Mrs. Severance carried in her box of jewelry, and which at dinner sometimes she wore even here at the ranch because her husband admired it so.

He did not make the mistake of being too eager. He waited a week. Then, on the eighth day following his advent, while the Five minutes later Mrs. Severance discovered the loss of the pearls, and announced it in hysterical tones.

Severances were off riding in the hills, Jig casually entered their room, removed the necklace from its box and, ten minutes later was seated beside the driver of the beach wagon as it headed back to town.

He laughed to himself as the car bumped over the rutted road. Joe Ware had seemed surprised at his sudden departure, but he couldn't do anything about it. And now they were safely away. There were no cars at the ranch, therefore no chance of being overtaken. No telephone either to warn the sheriff at Thunderbolt.

A half hour after the beach wagon had departed the Severances returned from their ride. Five minutes later Mrs. Severance discovered the loss of her pearls and announced it to her husband and the rest of the ranch in wild and hysterical tones. Andrew Severance cursed and swore and remembered how helpless they were out here, but Joe Ware only looked grim and called Slim North and issued curt orders.

The beach wagon mounted the last slope before descending into the town. Far to the right Jig Hayden perceived a thread of smoke. The train! His heart leaped.

He felt suddenly like whistling, had, in fact, puckered his lips to do so. Two horsemen suddenly emerged from the brush beside the road. Each held a gun. Jig Hayden's face whitened. He blinked. The horsemen were Joe Ware and Slim North. Jig hesitated only for a fraction of a second, then snarled his rage and reached inside his coat. His fingers closed about the automatic in its shoulder holster—and unclosed. A gasp escaped his lips. Slowly he slumped forward and would have pitched to the ground but for the supporting arm of the driver.

Joe Ware, smoking gun still in hand, rode up close, smiling thinly, contemptuously.

"You see," Joe Ware explained to Andrew Severance later, "we have good horses at the Welcome U. And horses out here are much more important than new fangled gadgets like automobiles. They ain't bothered by such things as sage and cactus and mesquite and outcroppings. It's only 10 miles to the station by horse, 30 if you follow around the road where the automobiles hafta go."

WOOD BINS STAND TEST

Grain bins laminated of wood and glue have been recommended as permanent type replacements for sheet iron and steel bins. Test bins of wood and glue have passed "over-load" test for strength showing no signs of deterioration.

BOMB INSECTS

A fine-fog method of dividing and spreading insecticides has been discovered and "bombs" containing the mixture are being sent to the fighting front to help protect men against mosquitoes, flies and other insects.

Lots of Sugar

In a year of sugar rationing almost nine billion pounds of refined sugar have passed to American consumers.
